

REWARD!

If the kidnapers of Margaret McMath do not accede to the father's request to return the plan within the 48 hours he has given them, from noon today, the Boston Evening American will reward of $5,000 for the safe return of the child and for exclusive information that results in arrest and conviction of the kidnapers. The information must be given exclusively to the Editor, Boston Evening American, Liberty 4000. The Evening American will in no way interfere in the plans of the father, and it asks the co-operation of every citizen in helping to return the child to the grieving parents. All information will be treated as confidential if so desired.

Today

The Angel Moroni
Heaven in North America
Wool Prices Are Up
Martial Law in Iowa

By Arthur Brisbane

NORTH PLATTE, NEB., May 3.—At Salt Lake City, more than 700 miles to the west of this Union Pacific Railroad, the train waits long enough to make possible a visit to the church office building, a fine structure of solid granite.

There, in a great room lined with Christian walnut from the mountains of the Caucasus, said by Woodrow Wilson to be "the finest office I have ever seen," the dignitaries of the Mormon Church were gathered for discussion.

There were Heber J. Grant, president of the Mormons; Anthony W. Ivins and J. Reuben Clark, Jr., two "counselors." Mr. Ivins is a nephew of William M. Ivins, who once ran for mayor of New York. Mr. Clark was formerly United States ambassador to Mexico.

Mr. Grant, Mormon president, is a powerful man, six feet tall, with full brown beard and piercing eyes. He understands business, and in addition to being president of the Mormon Church he is president of the Utah, Idaho Sugar Co., with 12 great factories that change sugar beets into sugar, with more than twenty million dollars invested. You must stop in Salt Lake City some day to admire the wisdom and power of Brigham Young, who established a great religious and agricultural empire, building a city with streets wider than any in New York or Chicago. The Mormon temple will interest you, with its six great spires, three at the front named for the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, three at the rear for Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Above the central spire stands a magnificent bright golden figure of the Angel Moroni, blowing on a golden trumpet.

It is the angel that delivered to the founder of the Mormon Church the gold plates on which was written the book of Mormon.

Mormonism offers an especial inducement to American patriots. It teaches that paradise is to be located on this earth and on this North American continent, and that Christ will return to earth to remain here in North America, personally, for ever and ever, in accordance with the tenth article of the Mormon faith.

"We believe in the literal gathering of Israel and in the restoration of the Ten Tribes. That Zion will be built upon this continent. That Christ will reign personally upon the earth, and that the earth will be renewed and receive its paradisaical glory."

"What about the thousands of millions of souls in space and the millions of planets that revolve around them, with all their inhabitants? Would there be room for them in North American heaven?"

You are reminded that a million angels could dance on the point of a needle. Therefore, if all the souls of all the planets in all space were reduced, as they well might be, to atomic proportions, with bones and flesh discarded, they would, all together, amount in bulk to less than the gold figure of the angel, Moroni, and would have plenty of room in North America.

Detroit will be glad to hear that Utah is buying new cars. In April more than 500 new automobiles were registered in Salt Lake City. The sheep raising regions along the Utah-Pacific are delighted with the rising prices. Wool has gone up 15 cents a pound. Colo and Sons Sheep Co., Salt Lake, announces purchase of 70,000 fleeces weighing about 600,000 pounds, from the Utah-Colo wool clip at the prevailing price of 25 cents a pound. The sheep are driven in thousands to central mechanical shearing stations. The ewe that "before her shears is dumb" bleats when released, and her lamb knows her, although the mother has not one-half of her apparent bulk and completely changed her appearance.

Today's local big news, supplied by the Omaha Bee-Nerve, coming aboard the train early, deals with "farm riots" that expense farmers' objections to having mortgages foreclosed. In Iowa, where farmers seized a judge in a foreclosure case and threatened him with a rope around his neck, martial law is declared, and more than 100 farmers have been arrested by national guardsmen. Martial law is made effective in a new way. Telephone operators are forbidden to call rural customers that they may not be warned of pending arrest.

WEATHER

Showers and cooler today; fair tomorrow; moderate south, shifting to northwest winds.
High tide, 8:54 a. m.; 8:44 p. m.
Sun rises, 5:37; sets, 7:56.
Light all vehicles at 8:15 p. m.
The American is the only Boston daily paper receiving Universal Service and International News Bureau dispatches plus Associated Press.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

VOL. 30—No. 38 Published daily by H. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1933 2 CENTS 3 CENTS

OFFERS ALL FOR INTERVIEWED CHILD: C. S. LEADS WAR ON ERROR

McKNIGHT EATON WARE INDUSTRIAL OWNERS

Hovey in "Straw Man" Plot, Prosecutor Murphy Claims

"What became of McKnight's millions?" asked by so many during the collapse of banks the convicted banker was connected with, in told in a separate story on Page 4.

Edwin T. McKnight, jailed president of the closed Medford Trust Co., and his former law partner, John E. Eaton, were named today in Suffolk superior court as owners of a controlling interest in the closed Industrial Bank & Trust Co. of Boston.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

3 MONTHS FOR $3.30 THEFT

For the theft of a handbag containing $3.30 Alphonse Butler, 37, father of five children, of 23 Elliot st., Dorchester, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction today by Judge Richard M. Walsh in Dorchester court.

He was arrested by Patrolmen John Foley and John Ward several minutes later.

In Today's American

American Patterns	Page 9
Classified Ads	Page 10
Crossword Puzzle	Page 10
Daily True Story	Page 10
Domestic Notices	Page 10
Dr. Copeland's Advice	Page 10
Financial	Page 10
Louella Sharon's Column	Page 12
Magazine Features	Page 9
Martin's Recipes	Page 9
O. O. McIntyre's	Page 20
Poker	Page 16
Promoters	Page 15
Prof. Rogers' Column	Page 15
Radio News	Page 15
Shippy Comics	Page 15
Smith's Column	Page 15
Special News	Page 16
Conway and Corum	Page 14
Tad's Column	Page 14
Theater, Movie News	Page 12

Girl Tells Kidnap Hoax

Took Phone Message That Gave McMath Child to Abductors

By RUTH C. HOLMES
Miss Holmes, 19, daughter of a Harwich salesman and assessor and secretary to Superintendent of Schools Pratt, was cruelly hoaxed by the kidnapers of Peggy McMath and played an important part in their scheme. She tells her own story herewith.

Picture on Page 4

About 3:30 yesterday afternoon I was at my home in Harwich office in the Harwich telephone exchange. I was talking to a man's voice on the other end of the line said: "Is Miss Holmes there?" It was a very deep voice.

I said: "This is Miss Holmes speaking."

The voice said: "This is Mr. McMath. I would like to have my daughter, Margaret, escorted to about quarter of three today."

I said: "Is she in this building?"

He said: "Yes, she is in the fourth grade. She is in Miss Filkins' room."

PAY STATION CALL

I knew the call came from a pay station because when I accepted the call I heard the coin drop. I had no reason to believe the man was anyone other than Mr. McMath, and I thought he was in a store nearby and wanted her.

I said: "Do you want her escorted right away?"

He said: "If you please, I will send my colored chauffeur for her in about 15 minutes."

I later learned he had no colored chauffeur, but I was not aware of it.

Continued on Page 4, Column 5.

"BUY AMERICAN"

Broca Fired From Yale Baseball Squad

New Haven, Ct., May 3.—John Broca of Lawrence, Mass., Yale's plugging ace was dropped from baseball squad for refusing to obey orders.

Balances and Receipts

Washington, May 3.—Today's Treasury balance, $229,064,986. U. S. customs receipts, $1,061,627.

At Braves Field

REDS
Burger, 1b
Radin, 2b
Moore, cf
Alon, rf
Routiger, lf
Lombardi, c
Smith, 3b
Durocher, m
Luce, p
Game starts at 2:15 p. m.

WHAT PEGGY M'MATH WORE AT KIDNAPING

SHORT, WAVY HAIR
DARK BROWN EYES
MOUTH SLIGHTLY LARGE
UPPER RIGHT BACK TEETH OUT OF PLACE

SLIGHTLY TANNED COMPLEXION

HEIGHT 4 FEET
SLIGHTLY WELL BUILT

BLUE JACKET with BRASS BUTTONS

BROWN, WHITE and ORANGE GINGHAM DRESS with WHITE COLLAR and WHITE TRIMMINGS at the FRONT

LOW TAN SOCKS

TAN OXFORDS

This specially posed photograph shows little Margaret McMath and how she was dressed when she was kidnaped from Harwichport schoolroom five days ago. She may still be wearing these clothes. It is published, with her description, to aid in her identification and speedy return. If you see a little girl like this, please act quickly. Clothes taken from description. (Boston American photo.)

POLICE WITHDRAWN TO LET ABDUCTORS TAKE M'MATH GIRL HOME

DEVELOPMENTS IN KIDNAP MYSTERY
(See Editorial on Page 2. Other Stories and Pictures on Kidnaping on Pages 3, 4 and 5.)

These are today's developments in the Cape Cod kidnaping of 10-year-old Margaret ("Peggy") McMath:

- 1—Police withdrew for 48 hours from the Harwichport home of the victim as the child's parents issue an appeal and instructions to the underworld for ransom negotiations, on the kidnapers' "own terms," promising fair play and every cent they can get for Peggy's return, unharmed.
- 2—Admission by the father, through a state detective, that the family had received five extortion letters in Detroit before moving to the Cape.
- 3—All government agencies pledged to search for kidnapers who are believed part of the Purple kidnap gang of Detroit. Federal officials see this kidnaping as first indication of this section by organized racketeering gangsters.
- 4—Greatest search since the Lindbergh kidnaping centers along the Cape and in Boston for two white men and a Negro, believed to have stolen the girl. Coast Guard and State Police lead hunt; Boston inspectors comb the South End, with one clue from that district.
- 5—Department of Justice agents enter the search under the new federal kidnaping law, with agents at work in Boston, Detroit, home of the child's wealthy grandparents, and on the Cape.

For the safe return of a slender, brown-eyed girl of 10, stolen yesterday at Harwichport, on Cape Cod, in Massachusetts' first major kidnaping, parents of wealth and social influence issued an "open door" appeal to the underworld today, banished police, and pledged every dollar they could get for ransom.

A shaken father and a heartbroken mother, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cook McMath pleaded through an official spokesman and the press for their daughter, Margaret "Peggy" McMath, enticed away from the Harwich grammar school yesterday by a Negro who is believed to have had two white men as accomplices.

The parents sent police away from their five-acre Harwichport estate for a truce period of 48 hours.

They will remain at home—waiting—with the door of the house open night and day.

They will pay every cent upon which they can lay their hands at the time the child is returned.

They believe an organized underworld gang responsible for the crime and are willing to do anything to get their daughter back, even to an underworld boss and never identify them.

William Lee Acts as Spokesman for Family

William Lee of Harwich, associate of McMath in the boatbuilding business, acted as official spokesman for the family at a conference with the press and answered the family plans in the following statement:

"Mr. and Mrs. McMath appreciate what the press has done and hope I will continue its efforts to help them under the same conditions it has since yesterday. The state police have agreed to remain off the premises for 48 hours, and none of them will be on the grounds for at least that length of time."

"No attempt has been made yet to contact either Mr. or Mrs. McMath either by telephone or by letter."

Mr. and Mrs. McMath will remain at home all day today and all night tonight. They will not leave the house. The door of the house is open to the kidnapers at any time of the day or night.

"If they wish to bring the child home, they will be met at the door by the police."

Continued on Page 3, Column 1.

DOOLE'S NO. 1 LOSES $75,000

Tonon, N. J., May 3 (AP).—Award of $75,000 against Mrs. Mary Davis Doole of Boston to the state of Massachusetts, for alleged alienation of affections of her former husband, Arthur Doole, was set aside today in supreme court decision.

Dole is the son of Nathan Hanson Doole, the poet, and a nephew of James Drummond Doole, the "apple king."

Grant Judge built V. Lawrence in supreme court granted motion of the defense counsel for a retrial on the entire issue, including damages.

Evidence showed, the court pointed out, Doole and Isabel Doole separated on occasion, came together again but without having been divorced.

The divorce was granted by the state supreme court in 1928, after a long trial. The court said, for a considerable time before Doole began to associate with Martina Davis, a divorce was obtained in Reno, Nev., by Mrs. Davis.

The evidence, the court said, showed that the conduct of Doole and Mrs. Doole was the proximate cause of the divorce.

"BUY AMERICAN"

Fallen Wire Kills Two

Rochester, Vt., May 3 (AP).—Mrs. Dominie Nebelbeck, 37, and Thomas Bonnett, 36, were electrocuted by a fallen wire which carried 13,000 volts of electricity.

RELATION BILL IS SURE OF PASSAGE TODAY

DISPUTE OVER FARM RELIEF IN SENATE

Democratic Leaders Sure of Victory Despite G. O. P. Attack

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

Washington, May 3 (AP)—A huge Democratic majority and a small group of insurgent Republicans today stood ready to place the stamp of approval of the House on the administration's currency inflation plan.

Despite the attacks of Republican leaders, who charged that Congress is making President Roosevelt a financial dictator, Democratic chieftains were confident of rolling up 300 votes for a measure to curtail the currency inflation plan.

DEBATE BARE BITEFLENS

By the same act the House was to send the re-creating farm relief plan together with the $2,000,000 farm mortgage relief project to conference with the Senate. From out difficulties.

The unusual session in dividing the omnibus bill was explained by Speaker Cullen, who said the administration desired to place both branches of Congress on record on the currency plan speedily, to avoid all uncertainty.

Partisan bitterness broke forth during debate on the measure, with the Republicans apparently seeking to "make a record" for use in future campaigns.

The inflation rider, which gives the President power to devalue the gold dollar 50 per cent, issue $1,000,000,000 in greenbacks, accept $200,000,000 in payment of foreign debts, and ask the Federal Reserve Board to issue $3,000,000,000 in notes, was attacked by Republican spokesmen as unaccountable. They pictured the nation embarking upon an inflation which would go the route of Germany and other foreign nations.

RECALL SOUND MONEY

In "making the record" Republican Leader Sull, of New York, said from President Roosevelt's campaign speeches declaring for sound money and attacking President Hoover's statement that the United States had been near bankruptcy from the gold standard during his administration as "a label on the credit of the United States."

Representative Burns of Tennessee, Democratic leader, replied with the declaration that the President "declared in no uncertain terms that he stands for sound money."

"There can be no reason why he should not have authority to bring down the unprecedented value of the dollar," he said.

Reverberations were expected to the charge of Republican Leader Fadden (R.) of Pennsylvania that lobbyists for international bankers had "sold" the idea of taking $200,000,000 in silver at 50 cents an ounce in payment of foreign debts.

France to Impose Tax on U. S. Goods

Paris, May 3 (AP)—The ministry of finance has prepared to impose a 15 per cent tariff on American goods.

The decree, it was learned, is ready for signature, to be issued when the dollar approaches 20 francs, which officials expect.

This tariff already is effective on British and Japanese goods, because of depressed exchange.

It cannot be increased without parliamentary sanction, which Premier Daladier was reported contemplating.

JAPS THREATEN CHINA AGAIN

Tokyo, May 3 (AP)—Japan took its first at Chinese loss today in a new threat interpreted in non-Japanese quarters as an attempt to frighten the Chinese into seeking an armistice.

A government spokesman declared that if the army is compelled to repeat recent operations in north China they will "probably be a larger scale than heretofore, requiring special sanction of the emperor."

When he was asked if this meant occupation of Peking and Tientsin, he said it was impossible to fix limits.

"It is up to the Chinese," he said, adding that Japan has the advantage might as far as China.

Meanwhile, at the foreign office, a spokesman declared it was almost a certainty that Japan would demand equal equality with the United States and Great Britain in the 1935 naval conference.

Wyzanski Opposed as Labor Executive

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Raymond S. Wyzanski, of Ohio was confirmed by the Senate as director of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Confirmation of Charles Wyzanski, Jr., of Massachusetts, as solicitor of the Labor Department, was blocked on objection from Senator McCarran (D.), Nevada, and went over until the next executive session.

Amherst Long Dry, Votes Wet Two to One

Amherst, May 3 (AP)—Amherst townsmen voted two to one for beer here last night in a sensational turnover.

Traditionally dry, Amherst had not favored liquor with one exception, since 1879.

Gas Tax Brings 16 Millions Here

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Gasoline taxes brought New England last year a total revenue of $31,877,366.

The bureau of public roads reported that of this amount Massachusetts received more than half, $16,512,578.

New England's Honor at Stake in Kidnaping of McMath Girl

Margaret "Peggy" McNath has been kidnaped, the innocent and helpless victim of the most flimsy and notorious system of racketeering which disgraces the American Nation.

This child is only ten years old.

She is sweet and pure.

Yesterday she was frolicking with her schoolmates in their innocent pastimes.

Today she is in the hands of some fiendish brutes, utterly at the mercy of these gangsters, who are unmindful of the torture or suffering she bears in her sweet innocence so long as they may get their dirty paws on a few dollars of the blood money that is called ransom.

Unless they were desperate culprits, hardened to agony, they would not have stolen this helpless little girl, hardly more than a baby, from her agonizing parents and her other distressed relatives and friends.

These wretches are a symbol of the racketeering that paralyze American business, defies American law and order, destroys American property and, worst of all, threatens and destroys American lives.

They and their criminal pals are "the system."

They have created a reign of horror in this country.

They are parasites, sucking the blood of honest business, preying upon the property honestly acquired by honest American men and women.

They destroy property with bombs when the honest businessman refuses to pay their unconscionable levies for "protection."

This organized system of desperate criminals collects its graft and corruption money but it but it reaches the depths of degradation and infamy when it steals a defenseless little girl from its loving parents and hods her for the dirty "ransom" that even the buccaners of Captain Kidd or Morgan would disdain.

The brutal system of kidnaping is an organized racket in the West.

Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago and other respectable communities have been disgraced by these racketeers who invade the comfort of the family home, seize innocent children and create a reign of fear, suspense and distress.

This disreputable "system" has NOW COME TO MASSACHUSETTS. THESE HEARTLESS hoodlums must be routed out, NOW, to a man.

Margaret "Peggy" McNath was seized and stolen from a quiet town of Cape Cod, where the sturdy, God-fearing people had every cause to believe they were isolated from the banditry and corruption and organized criminal underworld of the "great" cities of America.

The safety of this innocent child is at stake. The happiness and comfort of her agonized parents is at stake.

THE HONOR OF MASSACHUSETTS IS AT STAKE.

Let us retain that honor, let us capture these gangsters, break up this vicious system and thereby let the world know that Massachusetts will not tolerate the practices of the underworld of racketeering.

TARIFF FEELT IN ENGLAND

Cabinet is Summoned to Downing St. in Business Crisis

London, May 3 (AP)—The Cabinet was summoned to Downing Street yesterday for a meeting called for in the agreement between the Leather Workers' Union and the manufacturers led to a disturbance at that plant today.

Nearly 200 strikers refused to resume work when they found the strikers there. Police scattered the strikers, who then returned to union headquarters to await instructions from Joseph Meadley, union official and the company officials said there was a misunderstanding and that the strikers would be discharged tonight.

In London, Salem and Danvers other cities affected by the strike which lasted nearly six weeks and cost a half million dollars in wages, workers were jubilant as they returned to work.

The leather workers gained the right to a 10 cent cost of living allowance and recognition of the union and higher wages.

STRIKES BALK ONE PLANT IN PEABODY

100 Refuse to Return Because Firm Keeps Strikebreakers

Peabody, May 3 (AP)—Here are the chief provisions of the administration's inflation plan which the House was sent to approve today:

The President is authorized to arrange for Federal Reserve banks to purchase in the open market up to $100,000,000 of government obligations, including stock in corporations of which the United States is the majority stockholder.

If the President is unable to arrange this operation, or if he found inadequate to raise prices to the desired level, he may:

Direct the issuance of United States notes up to $100,000,000 to buy government obligations, and make provisions for retiring part of the amount annually through congressional appropriations.

Reduce the gold content of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent. Provide that the unlimited flow of coins of silver at a fixed ratio with gold.

In addition, he is authorized to accept silver up to $100,000,000 in payment of war debts during the next six months, valuing the silver at 50 cents an ounce, to be used as the basis for the issuance of silver certificates.

As a possible curb against too much inflation, the federal reserve board is authorized with the approval of the secretary of treasury to require the Federal Reserve Banks to take such action as may be necessary.

With the approval of the President, the board may declare an emergency in the case of a decrease in the reserve balance required to be held against deposits.

Points in Inflation Measure

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Here are the chief provisions of the administration's inflation plan which the House was sent to approve today:

The President is authorized to arrange for Federal Reserve banks to purchase in the open market up to $100,000,000 of government obligations, including stock in corporations of which the United States is the majority stockholder.

If the President is unable to arrange this operation, or if he found inadequate to raise prices to the desired level, he may:

Direct the issuance of United States notes up to $100,000,000 to buy government obligations, and make provisions for retiring part of the amount annually through congressional appropriations.

Reduce the gold content of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent. Provide that the unlimited flow of coins of silver at a fixed ratio with gold.

In addition, he is authorized to accept silver up to $100,000,000 in payment of war debts during the next six months, valuing the silver at 50 cents an ounce, to be used as the basis for the issuance of silver certificates.

As a possible curb against too much inflation, the federal reserve board is authorized with the approval of the secretary of treasury to require the Federal Reserve Banks to take such action as may be necessary.

With the approval of the President, the board may declare an emergency in the case of a decrease in the reserve balance required to be held against deposits.

Police Race to Mount

Police House on Girl's Story Find It Empty

North Adams, May 3—Two carloads of police, heavily armed and ready for a shooting attack, made a party trip to Florida mountain on the Mohawk Trail, today an arrested dwelling, five miles from here, in the hunt for the slayer of Leah Lloyd Chapman, 13, daughter of the slain girl, Miss Chapman talked freely after being urged by her mother, in presence of police to tell all.

The early morning trip over the trail was a spectacular one, made by a carload over the winding highway, with its famous hairpin turns.

Revelations made by the dead girl's chum were kept secret, but the mystery appeared nearing solution.

CORNER SAW CRIME

The authorities have adopted a theory that another couple at the hotel where the murder took place, were witnesses of the brutal slaying.

They were not actually on the scene, they were with Leah and her chum, but they saw the man for the killing and knew that the man was there.

Questioning of the Chapman girl followed operations at the police station at a local youth. After her mother's return from the hospital, she was taken to the station and a large crowd gathered outside the station on State Street, unable to enter the crowded bar, resorted to a fire hose and turned the water on the crowd.

ARTICLES PLANTED

Chief Conlon reiterated his belief that the woman and other articles were "planted" near the murder spot within the past few days by the murderer or an aide of the murderer, either one of which would be the work of investigators of the scene.

Eduards Selected for Chamber Board

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Nomination list of members to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, published at Harvard University, and former newspaper executive in Minneapolis and New York and Boston, is named here. He was 73 years old.

Humidity and Rain Follow Hot Spell

Following the hot spell Boston received a visit from old General Humidity today and the weather men said it was 50 per cent likely that the humidity would be in the next few days with overcast skies and probable showers.

Conditions prevail over the entire east.

Haskell, Founder of the Criminos, Dies

Salisbury, May 3 (AP)—Col. William E. Haskell, a founder of the Criminos, published at Harvard University, and former newspaper executive in Minneapolis and New York and Boston, is named here. He was 73 years old.

Witness to Bare Bank Crash Truth office of the bank commissioner.

Asst. Atty. General: "Yes, in a way."

COULD HAVE SEIZED BANK

Judge Burns: "Also, I gather that the government makes no charge of personal profit on the part of the directors."

Murphy said that was correct.

Judge Burns: "Any charges of bad faith?"

Murphy: "Only this. The commission doesn't charge bad faith directly but does charge that if this plan had been put into effect, the defendants would have been liable for a voluntary assessment by the bank commissioner in the amount necessary to put the bank in a condition, regarding real estate, acceptable to the commissioner. If such a voluntary assessment were made but not paid, the bank commissioner had the right to take possession of the bank's assets, although the stock did not stand in their names on the books."

He said the bank had a large amount of foreclosed real estate in its possession and wanted to get off the books. An arrangement was made for some of the directors to take various parcels.

Leave the bank in the hands of these parcels, he said, in the names of "straw" men and the loans returned to the bank, the only result being removal of real estate from the books from the bank's assets and transfer of funds from savings to commercial department, or vice versa.

Judge Burns: "I gather from your statement that this was an attempt on the part of the directors and officers to comply with some request from the

Police Race to Mount

Police House on Girl's Story Find It Empty

North Adams, May 3—Two carloads of police, heavily armed and ready for a shooting attack, made a party trip to Florida mountain on the Mohawk Trail, today an arrested dwelling, five miles from here, in the hunt for the slayer of Leah Lloyd Chapman, 13, daughter of the slain girl, Miss Chapman talked freely after being urged by her mother, in presence of police to tell all.

The early morning trip over the trail was a spectacular one, made by a carload over the winding highway, with its famous hairpin turns.

Revelations made by the dead girl's chum were kept secret, but the mystery appeared nearing solution.

CORNER SAW CRIME

The authorities have adopted a theory that another couple at the hotel where the murder took place, were witnesses of the brutal slaying.

They were not actually on the scene, they were with Leah and her chum, but they saw the man for the killing and knew that the man was there.

Questioning of the Chapman girl followed operations at the police station at a local youth. After her mother's return from the hospital, she was taken to the station and a large crowd gathered outside the station on State Street, unable to enter the crowded bar, resorted to a fire hose and turned the water on the crowd.

ARTICLES PLANTED

Chief Conlon reiterated his belief that the woman and other articles were "planted" near the murder spot within the past few days by the murderer or an aide of the murderer, either one of which would be the work of investigators of the scene.

Faulkner Nurses Get Diplomas

The eighth annual dinner and dance of the student body of Faulkner Hospital, which is given by the graduates of the nursing school, will take place at Longwood Towers, Brookline, tomorrow evening.

The graduating class consists of Avian Antin, Ruth Paylin, Sally Allen, George H. Smith, Ruth Curran, Lillian Farrington, Elizabeth McMillen, Anita Nelson, Jennie B. Jean, Scott, Phyllis Sherry, Alice Greene, Rita Carey, Vida Doyle, Alice Cole, Florence Varney, Hope, Hazel Pedersen, Isabelle Davidson, Alice Grant, Helen Marshall and Faith King.

Man Survives Stab Wound in Heart

Chicago, May 3 (AP)—Leroy Muller apparently is well on his feet after a very dangerous stab wound in the heart, which he received in a fight with a woman, who is now in a hospital.

Muller was taken to the hospital by heart by Dr. George S. Davis, who said that twice during the fight he saw the woman stab Muller in the heart with a knife, which he stopped but was restored to his feet.

Belmont Man Fights Income Tax Ruling

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Lewis S. Belmont, of Belmont, Mass., has asked the board of tax appeals to set aside the ruling of the Internal Revenue Commission's ruling which would require him to pay an additional $11,000 in income tax.

"Chevro Cords"

On this continent and across the water, smartest men will be wearing Lonsdale new "hit" . . . "Chevro Cords." It's a new stripe, colorful and manly, strong and reserved. Super Shrunk Broadcloth that won't shrink or fade. Yours in White, Blue, Green, Grey. Collar attached style. 1 3/4 to 17.

Mail and Phone Orders Filled, Street Floor.

G. CHRIS'S

General Electric Improved AC or DC

Yest! The New Improved G. E. Radio with its own antenna and tubes, dynamic speaker, handy walnut veneer cabinet. Frequency range covers short wave for police calls. Easy terms.

$17.95

Complete With RCA Tubes

We Carry a Complete Line of New General Electric Radios

G. CHRIS'S

General Electric Improved AC or DC

Yest! The New Improved G. E. Radio with its own antenna and tubes, dynamic speaker, handy walnut veneer cabinet. Frequency range covers short wave for police calls. Easy terms.

$17.95

Complete With RCA Tubes

We Carry a Complete Line of New General Electric Radios

G. CHRIS'S

General Electric Improved AC or DC

Yest! The New Improved G. E. Radio with its own antenna and tubes, dynamic speaker, handy walnut veneer cabinet. Frequency range covers short wave for police calls. Easy terms.

$17.95

Complete With RCA Tubes

We Carry a Complete Line of New General Electric Radios

G. CHRIS'S

General Electric Improved AC or DC

Yest! The New Improved G. E. Radio with its own antenna and tubes, dynamic speaker, handy walnut veneer cabinet. Frequency range covers short wave for police calls. Easy terms.

$17.95

Complete With RCA Tubes

We Carry a Complete Line of New General Electric Radios

G. CHRIS'S

SINGING TAILOR SUES SOCIAL LEADER FOR $200,000

MRS. PRESCOTT
NAMED BY SERBAGI

Attorney and Prescotts Also Sued After Arrest

Four civil suits of $50,000 each have been filed in Middlesex Superior Court by Mihat Serbagi, former New Bedford tailor who became a concert singer, in connection with his arrest last year on charges of assault and robbery of Mrs. Oliver Prescott, New Bedford social leader.

Serbagi was arrested in March, 1932, on charges of holding up Mrs. Prescott at gun point and robbing her of $5 in cash and a promissory note for $25,000 payable to him. The suits were filed in Middlesex Court yesterday by Serbagi's attorney, William Shaw McCullum, of Boston. Three of them are brought respectively against Mrs. Prescott and her two sons, Oliver, Jr., and Bryant Prescott, alleging false and malicious prosecution.

The fourth is against all three, and Timothy J. O'Brien, New Bedford attorney, alleging the quartet conspired to defame Serbagi and injure his good name.

Serbagi worked in a New Bedford tailor shop until his voice attracted attention. Through the aid of music patrons he was enabled to study and develop his talent. Mrs. Prescott was credited with being responsible for the greater part of the financing of his studies.

According to the charges against him at the time of his arrest, Serbagi met Mrs. Prescott at New Bedford and went with her to a point the robbery is alleged to have taken place.

Charges against him were dismissed.

CUDAHY KIDNAPER

Pat Crowe, former Western badman, who kidnaped Edward Cudahy, heir to the meat packing millions, many years ago. The Cudahy child was returned to its parents unharmed with Crowe later turning to evangelical work.

LITTLE HARWICH VICTIM

Margaret "Peggy" McMath, latest victim of the fiendish kidnaping organization. She was taken from her school at Harwichport yesterday and today her frantic parents were pleading with the underworld to return their child to their waiting arms.

DEATH WAS FATE OF THIS CHILD

Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, whose slain body was found after he had been kidnaped at night from his New Jersey home. The hunt for this child led Col. Lindbergh into the vicinity of Cape Cod, where the McMath child was stolen. Col. Lindbergh flew over the Cape several days seeking to contact the kidnapers.

LEADING HUNT FOR KIDNAP FIENDS

Capit. James P. Mahoney, new leader of the state police, flung all the facilities of his organization into the hunt for the fiends that kidnaped "Peggy" McMath from Hyannis yesterday. The trail today led the police to Worcester, but all roads from the Cape were being well covered by state officers.

EVELYN NESBIT
SEEKS REVIEW OF DIVORCE

Plans Battle Against Thaw Millions to Set Paternity of Son

Atlantic City, N. J., May 3.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has determined to seek a review by the courts of her divorce by Harry K. Thaw and to renew her right to establish the paternity of her son, Russell.

A fight, perhaps futile, by a frail, broken woman, against the rich Thaw family, to end once and for all the humiliating financial "doles" which she has had to endure.

Stunned by Thaw's Reluctance
Relieving herself to have been victimized, the once beautiful Evelyn Nesbit has placed all of the information she has in the hands of a New York law firm. She asks every possible plea for review of the divorce and for a fair settlement.

Especially in an interview today, declared the Thaw family had spurned her. The Thaws have been sending her "gift money," she explained snarl, sums at irregular intervals. But now, she asserted, attorneys have intimated the "gifts" will be withheld. In fact, are very likely to stop altogether. If an autobiography she is writing about too freely deal with certain incidents.

TELLS ALL IN STORY
"Well, in this autobiography I have told all, utterly all there is to be said about me," said Evelyn. She declared it goes back to the pitiable disarray into which her life was flung on that June night in 1906 when her husband, Harry K. Thaw, shot and killed Stanford White, New York architect, on Madison Square Garden roof.

"As soon as it became known that I was writing my autobiography," said Evelyn, "there were rumormongers."

"Then I received a letter from Mr. Thaw's attorney, Mr. Stone, Stone and McCandless, in Pittsburgh. Here it is, read it."

The letter, dated Jan. 14, 1928, and signed by Stephen Stone, concluded:

"The monies which we have been sending to you each month, and which we have sent you for many years past, are nothing but gifts. It is a fair to presume that you would hesitate somewhat in continuing to make resistance until we know the extent to which he and his people were being criticized in your book."

LADY WITNESS
IN MEANS CASE

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The Post said today that the assurance has been received by United States Attorney Rover that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will be ready and willing to appear in court Monday at the trial of Gaston B. Means and Norman T. Whitaker on charges of conspiring to steal $200,000 from Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean.

Col. Lindbergh was contacted yesterday by the Justice Department, the Post said, and he reported to have assented readily to the suggestion that he appear as a witness. Means already has been convicted of taking $104,000 from Mrs. McLean in return for which he was supposed to bring about the recovery of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

MCKEE OUT OF MAYOR RACE

New York, May 3 (AP)—Joseph V. McKee, who succeeded James J. Walker for a brief period as mayor of New York and who was the chief hope of the anti-Tammington forces in the November election, renounced his political career today.

He accepted the presidency of the "Title Guarantees & Trust Co." A statement was issued at noon from the bank in behalf of McKee in which he emphasized "the complete limitation of myself from politics and governmental office."

He added that he felt his new position would give him the greatest opportunity for public service in view of the plight of the small home owner under existing economic conditions. The title guarantee and trust specialized in insurance and mortgage loans.

70-Year-Old Dad's
Babies Win Prizes

El Segundo, Cal., May 3 (AP)—The proudest father in these parts is Wesley E. Morgan, 70, whose two babies have been judged the first and second best in El Segundo's "perfect baby contest."

Bernman, seven months old, took first place and Wesley Junior, two, captured the second prize.

"It would have been a dead heat," Morgan boasted, "but Wesley had a cold and wasn't at his best."

Morgan and his wife, who is 58, were married at Aberdeen, Mass., in 1928.

School Slush Cuts
Term Two Weeks

Lowell, May 3.—Lowell school pupils today hailed the action of the school committee to reduce expenses of the school department $100,000 a year with great delight. The reason for their joy is the fact that the action will result in two extra weeks of vacation for them during the year.

Shoe Workers Get Pay Raise

Rochester, N. H., May 3 (AP)—The Hubbard Shoe Company has voluntarily increased wages 5 per cent, and began the manufacture of a slightly better grade of shoes.

MISSISSIPPI BABY
KIDNAPED, TOO?

Ossipee, N. H., May 3.—Susan Walker, 2, who has been missing from her home since Monday morning, was either killed by a hit and run motorist and her body carried away, or she was abducted by someone in an automobile, Ossipee officials were convinced today.

A bloodhound used in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping hunt and owned by Harriet Sealot of Northampton, followed the child's scent to a schoolhouse today, about a mile from the Walker home, and there lost it.

Meanwhile, one of the greatest searches in the history of the county is being continued by 100 volunteers.

Mrs. Walker is in serious condition at her home where she is expected to give birth to her fourth child today.

Rum Raid Leads to State Probe of Jean Parker's Club

State authorities are investigating the club's charter. Meanwhile the unauthorized removal of charges and counter charges buried by Mrs. Casey and police were still at a status quo.

Supt. Crowley has repeated his invitation to Mrs. Casey that she make the charges personally to him in his office. It is understood that Mrs. Casey has denied making the charges but no official confirmation of this report has been secured.

Colonial Dames
in Capital Meeting

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Mrs. James P. Andrews of Hartford, Conn., president of the Colonial Dames of America, presided at a banquet during the organization's annual convention.

Among the New England delegates present were Mrs. Henry Edgerton of Boston, Mrs. A. E. Granville of Brookline, Mass., and Mrs. Lucien Howe of Cambridge, Mass.

Dictator Hitler Hanged in Effigy

May Day demonstrators at Socialist activities in New York are shown as they hanged a dummy labelled "Hitler" during the exercises.

More than 15,000 Socialist followers took part in the May Day exercises that ended with the public hanging of the German dictator.

CADDIES BOO AS THEY PICKET

Peabody, May 3.—The full force of 125 caddies of the Salem Country Club, who are on strike, were on picket duty today, watching for arrival of any strikebreakers and spouting the fun for golfers by booing.

One woman player burst into tears under the boos of the boys and several men appeared to be real indignant, especially when the booing came while they were putting.

Police were on guard against any attempt to spoil the greens. The caddies, concentrated their efforts at a point where the course crosses a road.

The strikers said they want an increase of 10 cents a round, making the scale 60, 70 and 85 cents, and they don't want to contribute five cents a round for the caddy master. They also object to having Cyril Wood of Winchester, a caddy master in place of the Peabody man who held the post last year.

Hitler Drafts
Workers 18-19

Berlin, May 3 (AP)—Youths who have completed their 18th year by Jan. 1, 1934, will constitute the first recruits for the compulsory labor army in which all young Germans, rich and poor alike, will have to serve.

The first period of service, it was learned today, will be for six months. After the scheme has been in operation for a year, drafts will be completed in work 12 months.

The question of compulsory labor for women will be the subject of a special regulation later.

Only Steer's Mama
Could Like It!

Astoria, Ill., May 3 (AP)—A Chicago-bound steer escaped from a cattle truck. It paused in front of a clothing store window, saw its own reflection in a mirror, decided it didn't like it, and charged. Suits, shirts and glass were scattered.

Emerging from the store the steer galloped about the business district with the police and others in pursuit. The animal was lassoed by a former cowboy from his seat on the hood of a motor car.

Town Votes Beer for
First Time in History

Lunenburg, May 3 (AP)—The sale of 3.2 per cent beer was voted, 212 to 134, at a special town election last night. Its sale never before had been permitted here.

Body Recovered

Fitchburg, May 3 (AP)—The body of John A. Hinzner, 35, was taken from the Nashua river here not far from the home of his son.

Barbara Holmes wants to save you time and money! You can see her anytime from 9 A. M. to 5:30 P. M. at R. H. White Co. In addition to the information about your future home, she will also give you a card of introduction from your bureau to the person or company offering the rental.

Gandhi's Passive Resistance
Routs Woman Disciple

Poona, India, May 3 (AP)—Dr. Margaret Spigel, a young disciple of the Mahatma Gandhi, who announced the intention of joining the aged leader in his coming three weeks' fast, has abandoned such a plan.

Her decision followed a five-minute talk with the Mahatma, who insists that he will begin a fast in protest against untouchability on May 6, even though doctors say it may be fatal to him.

Dr. Spigel, a Jewess, who fled from Germany on the accession of Chancellor Adolf Hitler to power, probably will follow another of the Mahatma's disciples, Miss Nila Cram Crook, to Gandhi's home, in accordance with his desire.

The Mahatma's proposed fast gave the government of India a problem in connection with prison rules requiring freedom feeding to prevent death through starvation.

The government will soon consider its responsibility under this regulation. Medical opinion was being obtained on the state of Mr. Gandhi's health.

Ready
NOW!

JORDAN
MARSH
COMPANY

Thousands of pairs made to our own specifications!

Silk Stockings
50c

Chiffon! Durable
Semi-Service Weight!

First time in months we've been able to offer stockings of this quality at 50c, so be early for this is unquestionably the time to stock up! Chiffons with plaited sole and toe; service with lisle top and foot. Plenty of light summer shades.

Colors: featuring flattery and townwear for immediate wear; also, neutral beige, brown beige and a new suntan shade.

Mail or phone orders—call HUBBARD 2700

STOCKINGS—STREET FLOOR—MAIN STORE

DETROIT PURPLE GANG SUSPECTED AS McMATH KIDNAPERS

FATHER GOT BLACKMAIL NOTES WHEN THEY LIVED HERE

Kidnaping of 10-year-old Margaret "Peggy" McMATH, of Harwich, formerly of Detroit, is suspected by police and Department of Justice agents to be the first invasion of Massachusetts by Mid-Western professional kidnaping, and presumably the notorious Detroit Purple Gang.

As in the Lindbergh case, members of this gang, accredited with originating the "kidnaping racket" on a wholesale basis, especially the kidnaping of other gangsters, were sought today in the McMATH case.

Two special agents of the New England unit of the Department of Justice were detached from their regular assignments today on orders from Washington and were detailed to investigate the kidnaping, and a search for gangster began.

Harry Fleisher, one of the leaders of the Purple Gang, was sought at one time in Boston, where he was reported to have come for a secret conference during the Lindbergh investigation with Charles "King" Solomon, his declared friend, who was slain in Boston's Cotton Club last January.

GOT BLACKMAIL NOTES

The police search here for Fleisher was fruitless, but he surrendered two weeks later in Detroit, denying any complicity in the Lindbergh kidnaping and in a triple murder in a Detroit gang slaying, in which he was charged with being the "trigger man."

Last September the charge of killing the three gangsters, members of Detroit's "Little Jewish Navy," was quashed against Fleisher.

Father Ready to Give All for Girl

Here is the plea of Nell C. McMATH, for the safe return of his kidnapped child, Peggy. "I am certain the child was kidnapped. There can be no other explanation. Unfortunately, my wealth is not as great as some people believe, but whatever I have, without a cent reserved, I hereby offer to the kidnapers.

"I ask only that they get in touch with me at once. I will guarantee them anything they ask. I want nothing except to establish communication with them, and to make arrangements for the safe return of Peggy."

Because the state was unable to find a principal witness, it is the fact that little "Peggy" McMATH lived in Detroit until a year ago last September, and that her wealthy father had admitted receiving five extortion letters while living there, which turned police and Federal agents to the Purple Gang today.

The Boston Evening American has learned that the two local agents of the Department of Justice were assigned to the McMATH kidnaping investigation by Asst. Atty.-Gen. Frank S. Parrish in Washington, and that one is an agent who spent five weeks on Cape Cod last week investigating the Lindbergh baby kidnaping.

CUMMINGS ASKED REPORT
Two weeks ago Atty.-Gen. Homer K. Cummings called in Washington the heads of the local Department of Justice units throughout the country, and from each bureau was taken a detailed report on all that had been learned of racketeering and racketeering in his district, including the names of suspected gang members.

Special emphasis, it is known, was placed on the kidnaping racket, which the Attorney-General has declared to be one of the worst crimes in crime with which the Department of Justice has to contend.

The investigators who worked on the Lindbergh case are known to be still of the opinion that the

Peggy's Grandsire Left 7 Millions

Mrs. Allen Gray Kales, maternal grandmother of kidnapped Margaret "Peggy" McMATH of Harwich, the daughter of the late John S. Gray, one of the founders of the Ford Motor Company, where the foundation of the Kales fortune was laid. Mrs. Kales received $7,000,000 for the Ford stock left her by her father's will.

$50,000 supposed ransom paid over by Dr. John P. Condon, the famed "Jesuit" of the case, in an attempt to get the Lindbergh baby back safely was tricked out of him by gangsters who were familiar with the Cape Cod terrain.

ONE STILL THERE
At the time the baby was supposed to be turned over to "Jesuit" and others in a boat between Gay Head and Cuttyhunk on a Sunday morning, and one of the two Department of Justice agents assigned today to the McMATH case, believed that the turnover was to be made by boatloaders operating out of New Bedford or somewhere else in the vicinity.

One of the men suspected as being a one bootlegging gang in underfunded to be operating yet out of New Bedford.

On the Sunday morning the baby was supposed to have been returned to Lindbergh and "Jesuit" over the waters designated. There was no sign of the negotiators on the other side.

KIDNAP VICTIM AND UNWITTING AID OF GANG

GIRL DUPED BY KIDNAPERS

Miss Ruth C. Holmes, secretary to Supt. of Schools Pratt of Harwichport, hoaxed by the kidnapers of little Peggy McMATH into aiding them in their bold abduction. She got the phone call that had the child excused from school early and given to the Negro driving the kidnap car. (Boston American photo.)

TELLS OF KIDNAP HOAX

Continued from First Page

It at that time and was not at all suspicious. He said to him: "I will go down to Miss Flinkman's room and see that she is escorted."

The man said: "That will be fine. The chauffeur will be there in a few minutes."

TOLD THE TEACHER

I went down to Miss Flinkman's room and told her Mr. McMATH had called and to get Margaret ready to time for his arrival. Miss Flinkman said: "All right. I will attend to it right away."

I returned to my office and thought nothing more of the matter until an hour later when Miss Flinkman and Mrs. McMATH came into the office.

Miss Flinkman said: "Mrs. McMATH says that Margaret's father did not telephone to have her escorted."

That was the first inkling that I had that something might be wrong.

Mrs. McMATH was not weeping, but she was nervous, of course.

BOY TAKES MESSAGE

I told her what had happened and I immediately called police. I later learned that 15 minutes after I had received the call, a colored man in an auto drove up in front of the school off the roadway to within a few feet of the school just as John Shaugnessy, the first boy coming in from recess, was entering the building.

John told me the man called him and said: "Is Peggy McMATH in school. Go tell her to come out."

John said he told the man: "I don't know, but I'll go and see." He told me Margaret hesitated a moment and the man said, louder: "Come on, get in."

He said he saw the door slam and Margaret pushing her hand against the window and crying. I was the innocent victim of a

Kidnapers Facing 25 Years to Life

Prison terms from 25 years to life imprisonment face the kidnapers of 10-year-old Margaret McMATH.

While differing in details, the Bostonian kidnaping case of last fall illustrates how the state will deal with the kidnapers. Four men guilty of kidnaping Herman Rustein of Dorchester with the intent to collect ransom were given 15 to 25 years.

In the event the McMATH girl is carried out of the state, the federal kidnap law, passed following the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, permits any sentence up to life imprisonment.

crust, boss and I feel terribly about it.

R. I. Watched for Fleeing Kidnapers

Providence, May 3 (INS)—A systematic search of hotels and lodging houses, a thorough canvass of garages, and a watch by 500 police on every road and at Mount Hope Bridge, today followed the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, permits any sentence up to life imprisonment.

Authorities were convinced that if the kidnapers were members of the Detroit "Purple" gang, and were fleeing west they would have to come through the gateway of Rhode Island.

5 States Join in Hunt for Harwich Kidnapers

New York, May 3 (INS)—Every law enforcement agency in the state of New York swung into action today in the hunt for the kidnapers of Margaret McMATH, 10, abducted from her school at Harwich, Mass., yesterday.

A teletype appeal from Massachusetts state police was sent to New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut early today in the plea for police cooperation. Bolan immediately sent a message to all precinct commanders that police concentrate on the search.

Have You Seen Child or Car?

A description of kidnapped Margaret "Peggy" McMATH follows:

Age, 10; height, 4 feet; eyes, dark brown; short, wavy hair, and a slightly tanned complexion; mouth slightly large; one of upper right back teeth slightly out of place.

She wore tan oxford, low tan socks; brown, orange and white gingham dress with short sleeves, white collar and white trimmings at the front; blue jacket with brass buttons; no hat.

A description of her abductors follows:

Dark blue sedan with yellow wire wheels (car about three years old and thought to carry Massachusetts registration plates) carrying three men, 35 years old. Two white men, described as "hard-looking," the driver in dark gray chauffeur's uniform with a "black face" and looking as if he was a white man made up.

If you have seen this child or a car of this description communicate immediately with the City Editor of the Boston Evening American, Liberty 4000.

$247

Regular Value $650

Liberal allowance on your old piano.

TERMS as low as $5

a month.

OPEN 9 A. M. TILL 9 P. M.

Its low price is made possible because of the times; in other words, its price is tuned to your pocketbook of today.

J. P. COLLINS CO. 100 Summer St. BOSTON, MASS.

THE RITZ TOWER... an ideal locale...

whether for an extended town residence or for a refreshing round of New York shops, the theatre or whatever brings you here. At the very heart of the city's social center, it offers you utter luxury and all the major comforts at, everything considered, a minor tariff.

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

500 Madison Avenue, New York City

JORDAN'S BASEMENT

SENSATIONAL PURCHASE

1000 Pairs SHOES

Blue, Grey, Beige, Brown, Black and White Kidskin

New! Straps, Pumps, Ties, Sizes 3 to 8 AA to C New England Made

SPORT SHOES 600 Pairs...$194

Two Tone Tans—Black and White—all Whites—Tan and White—Smoke—Goodyear welted—Flat or College heels. Sizes 3 to 8—Widths A, B, C—Mail or Phone orders filled.

Women's Jacket Dress $2.95

Only $2.95

for Women's

Pastel Print Dresses

"Ask the woman who's bought one," we might say, for women who'd never before bought inexpensive frocks raved over these! No wonder! So smart, so well made!

Jacket Styles in Sizes 38 to 44—Corded Styles in Sizes 38 to 42. Also smart Pelha Dot Prints.

Hope for Kidnaped American Fades

Tokyo, May 3 (AP)—A Foreign newspaper agency dispatch from Muejen, Manchuria, said today that Japanese military authorities, abandoning hope of negotiating for the release of Dr. Nellie Nishize, kidnapped American missionary, had decided upon an attack to destroy the kidnaper band.

If You Have an Old Fur Coat PLEASE BRING IT THIS WEEK ONLY TO EDWARD FUR SHOP 102 West 11th St. (at 10th St.)

U. S. Flier Killed in Peru Lima, Peru, May 3 (AP)—Robert

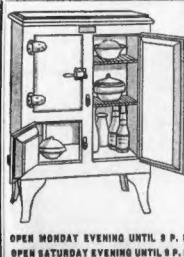

Conney, an American, crashed at Santa Cruz Air field today, while making a training flight. He was seriously injured.

WANTED OLD AND WORN FUR COATS

Highest Cash Prices Paid For Mink, Persian, Reconnos, Hudson Seal and Other Fine Fur Coats

If You Have an Old Fur Coat PLEASE BRING IT THIS WEEK ONLY TO EDWARD FUR SHOP 102 West 11th St. (at 10th St.)

U. S. Flier Killed in Peru Lima, Peru, May 3 (AP)—Robert

$5 ALLOWANCE for Your Old Refrigerator

WHITE MOUNTAIN MAKE—ALL STEEL REFRIGERATOR

$11.75

Including $5 Allowance on Old Refrigerator

AMERICAN SUPPLY CO., INC.

801 and 803 Washington St. NEW HAVEN

PARK AVENUE • at Fifty-Seventh Street • NEW YORK

FEDERAL OFFERS COPIED RETURN OF PEGGY McMATH

Continued from First Page

here unharmed, Mr. McMATH is willing to pay all the money he can to get the kidnappers or to any of their agents if the child is returned alive.

"The child must be returned at the time the money is paid."

"The police are working on this case simply because they have to. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. McMATH will make a request to have them stop working. They realize it is their duty to conduct an investigation when a crime of this kind occurs."

"Through the press, Mr. and Mrs. McMATH wish that it would be prominently mentioned that the kidnappers, should appear at their home with the child within twenty-four hours, they will not prosecute them, nor will the child be identified by the McMATHs."

Mother in Anguish Bids for Child's Safe Return

Mrs. McMATH, mother of the stolen child, dry-eyed, bearing up well, but showing the strain of a sleepless night, said today:

"I don't care what else happens, so long as my child comes home safely. I don't care what else happens, just so no harm comes to her."

stop working. They realize it is their duty to conduct an investigation when a crime of this kind occurs."

"Through the press, Mr. and Mrs. McMATH wish that it would be prominently mentioned that the kidnappers, should appear at their home with the child within twenty-four hours, they will not prosecute them, nor will the child be identified by the McMATHs."

Freedom of Action Pledged to Kidnappers

"They will be free to come and go without any police interference."

"Speaking for Mr. McMATH personally, he wishes me to say there is not the slightest grounds for vengeance as far as he knows."

"Reports that the McMATHs or the Kales (Mrs. McMATH's family) while in Detroit had discharged a Negro servant in order to time are untrue. There never was a Negro servant in either family on Cape Cod or in Detroit."

"Mr. and Mrs. McMATH believe the kidnapping of their child was the work of an organized gang of underworld men, and not of a degenerate. The act was too well planned for it to have been done other than by underworld members."

Despite previous denials that the family had received threats, State Detective Ernest Bradford said McMATH admitted having received five extortion letters while living in Detroit. The McMATHs moved from Detroit to Harwich a year ago last September.

Whether these letters continued after the family moved to Harwich was not said. The family belief that an organized gang in responsible for the kidnapping investigation along the theory that members of Detroit's notorious Purple Gang suspect in the Lindbergh baby kidnapping, may have originally treated McMATH and some East to carry out their threat.

The press conference with Lee took place at the headquarters of the police investigation along the theory that members of Detroit's notorious Purple Gang suspect in the Lindbergh baby kidnapping, may have originally treated McMATH and some East to carry out their threat.

All police and guards already had withdrawn from the McMATH grounds, opening a way for ransom negotiations. In the house were only Mr. and Mrs. McMATH, their son, Francis, seven, and two servants.

3 DAY SALE

456 Pair Women's Excellent Quality Ties, Pumps and Straps

The New Spring Fashions in the Newest Shades

$2.66

Product of high-grade shemaking—assuring satisfaction, though exceptionally low

$2.66

247 pair men and large sizes, including samples, $1.66

Shoes displayed in our Bargain Dept. in rear of Main Store.

ALL AMERICA

74 Summer St.

AMERICAN MADE SHOES

STATE INMATE FOR HOW KIDNAPERS COMMITTED 'PERFECT' CRIME AND FLED

The abduction of Margaret McMATH at Harwichport has been described as an almost "perfect" crime. First the kidnappers went to the school, securing the girl by sending a 10-year-old boy to her teacher to say the family car had called for the girl. Meanwhile, they telephoned to the little girl's home, asking that the receiver be kept off the hook for 10 minutes while repairs were being made. Thus they gained time to escape. The map of Cape Cod shows the two main roads by which the kidnappers may have crossed the Cape and toward Boston or New Bedford. Authorities, however, are inclined to believe that the girl has been secreted on the Cape perhaps on the Elizabeth Islands (circle), over which Col. Lindbergh flew in a vain search for his kidnapped baby.

crime with the child in the car. Among the boys and the sand dunes of the Harwiches, the Chatham, Eastham, Dennis, Barnstable, Orleans and Hyannis, there are numerous shacks where one or two or three men and a child might hide away for a time reasonably safe from detection.

Hiding Places Along Old Indian Trails

In the Mashpee area, between Bourne and Falmouth especially, there are many Indian trails used today scarcely less used than 200 years ago, a harbor of seclusion is offered.

In these districts there are many Brava settlements. Many Bravas are very dark skinned, as was the man who drove the kidnappers' car. In all of these areas, along the unfrequented back roads, search by state and town police and highway patrol for trace of the blue car with the yellow wheels.

Men from the Cape may have been with water—and the abductors may have waited for just such a foggy day as yesterday to carry out their plan if a boat were used—then the car may be found some where abandoned along the shore, probably hidden in the woods.

Every Coast Guard craft from Provincetown to Falmouth was active in the search, but the hour still hung heavy and no reports of progress were made. When the last reports were made, the car was seen suspicious looking craft.

Coast Guardmen going through a hampering fog along the coast line under order of Capt. William M. Pratt, superintendent of schools. When the fog failed to return home on the school bus, her parents were told that the car had been abandoned.

Aunt of Child Related by Marriage to Ford

McMATH is a former Detroit engineer and industrialist, whose sister, Mrs. Cahill of Burnside ave., Detroit, is said to be a relative by marriage of Henry Ford, automobile magnate.

Mrs. McMATH, the former Margaret Kales, is the daughter of William K. Kales, vice-president of Whitehead, Kales Co. of Detroit.

The girl was taken in a perfectly executed kidnapping, in which her home life in the search, but the hour still hung heavy and no reports of progress were made. When the last reports were made, the car was seen suspicious looking craft.

The shrewd kidnappers guarded against a check back with the McMATH home by an earlier call to the home with instructions to leave off the receiver for ten minutes while a lineman repaired the line.

In the call at the school, the kidnapper leader showed knowledge of the girl's teacher, referred to her by name and affected a voice similar to that of the girl's father.

Police traced the call later to a general store at Chatham just over the line from Harwich.

One of two known witnesses in the actual kidnapping found to be 10-year-old John Shaughnessy, who was standing near the entrance of the school.

The boy was sent to the teacher to tell her the "family car" had called for the McMATH girl.

Boy Eye Witness Tells His Story

"The men waited a little while and then Peggy came out," the Shaughnessy boy told police later.

"He told her to get in and I saw Peggy didn't want to. She started crying a little."

"Then the man said kind of hard like 'Yes in' and she got in and he drove away."

Two "hard-looking" white men were earlier seen in the car that was driven by a colored chauffeur. Mrs. McMATH was spirited away from a scene of excitement today.

State police questioned children and teachers and learned that Russell, a ten-year-old boy, like Young Shaughnessy had seen Peggy went out the kidnap car. Russell said, "I saw Peggy standing in the car. He talked to the man for a minute before she got in."

This inquiry at the school was followed the school bus yesterday. Shortly after daybreak, McMATH said that all police in the premises in the hope that the kidnappers might return the child without fear of arrest.

"I want them to be able to walk in the front door with me and walk out the back door unmolested," he earlier announced.

"There will be no prosecution, no marked bills, no fear of arrest," he added.

"Of course it is difficult to raise money quickly owing to the condition of the Detroit banks. Yet, every cent I possess will gladly be paid over for the return of my child."

Less asked that newspapermen also leave the McMATH grounds and that the kidnappers be provided for conferences with their own home in order that the kidnappers would not be disturbed should they need the use of the father for return of his child.

Police Expect Heavy Demand for Ransom

All the searches agreed that the kidnapping was staged with but one design—ransom.

In stressing advice against the father dealing privately with the contacts, Corp. Robert Rhodes of the Hyannis barracks recalled the "Jatze" contacts in the Lindbergh case.

Authorities expect that heavy demands will be made upon the family and may make upon Detroit relatives rather than directly upon the parents.

Some credence was placed in a theory that even the fortune of Henry Ford might be the goal because of his reported relationship with the Detroit office of McMATH.

Because the child is a son of a grand daughter of Francis C. McMATH, wealthy Detroit engineer and banker and industrialist, it is expected that negotiations might open in that quarter.

McMATH Offers Way for Return of Girl

The servants of the McMATH family, school teachers and townsfolk were hurriedly questioned. This brought forth the information that a sedan that answered the description of the one seen by the Shaughnessy boy had been around town since Sunday and had asked your dealer for the SIMPSON SPRING BEVERAGES $500.00 IN CASH PRIZES

1st Prize, $150, and 19 other cash prizes. Also 50 prizes of $10.00 each. The PRIZES are awarded to the winners of the SIMPSON SPRING BEVERAGES.

Women's, Misses', Juniors' Garden flower prints Cape or tiered sleeves Slenderizing, youthful styles Polka dots, pastel shades Dresden cord puff sleeves Smart Schiaparelli sleeve treatments

Every proven fashion success at a remarkably low price. Street dress, business dresses, afternoon frocks in styles and colors for every type. Be early when style and size assortment are complete.

No Mail or Phone Orders

Ask Your DEALER for the SIMPSON SPRING BEVERAGES $500.00 IN CASH PRIZES

KIDNAPERS GETAWAY, BLIGH BELIEVES

Capt. Thomas A. Bligh of the state police said today he believed women were involved in the kidnapping of little Peggy McMATH in Harwichport yesterday.

The woman, Capt. Bligh thinks, were in a car to which the kidnappers transferred the child from the auto in which the negro chauffeur called at the school.

He said it was likely the kidnappers fled by land, but that there were 100 ways to flee in safety by sea.

State troopers from all barracks and substations in eastern Massachusetts converged on the Cape, as many men as could be spared being detailed to the search.

The heavily-wooded section known as "Deep Hole," which lies inland from Nantucket Sound off the Harwiches, dotted by many small ponds in the region of which there are almost inaccessible camps, was the last of the most active.

If they did not actually find the child and her abductors, police hoped to find a camp they had used while waiting to work out their scheme.

Federal agents aiding in the search were believed in the case by direct orders from Washington. With Federal authority, mail at Harwich postoffice was inspected, but in it were found no letters from the kidnappers.

Whether the colored driver of the kidnapper car was actually a negro or a white man made up was still not positively determined. State Detective Ernest Bradford said he believed he may have been a white man skillfully colored with burned cork. He had only the description afforded by the school boy John Shaughnessy, the kidnapper driver, told to the school for Peggy.

The only report connecting two white men with the crime came from John Mulcahy, passing his car attendant in Harwich, but it was so definite that police said story.

There was little question about it. Mulcahy said that at 1 p. m. yesterday a car exactly answering the description of the kidnappers drove up to his station. Two "hard-looking" white men in the front seat and a negro in chauffeur's dress sat in the back. They bought a tankful of gasoline, he said, and the negro climbed behind the wheel while the white men took the back seat.

He said there was no doubt but that the chauffeur-driven man was a negro.

"I can tell them," he said. "He was not made up."

Mrs. Mary Shaughnessy, mother of the boy who witnessed the act of abduction, kept her son at home today, in fear of reprisal from gangsters because he had talked to the police.

The case, akin to all the traditional peaceful tranquillity of Cape Cod, had every resident on edge and was the sole topic of conversation from Sagamore to Provincetown. Many Cape Codders drove to Harwich and Harwichport, in fear of reprisal from gangsters because he had talked to the police.

Chief E. A. Jull of Harwich made a hurried trip to Chatham to confer with Chief Everett Bligh, ostensibly for the purpose of retreating the phone call to the school which permitted Peggy to fall into the abductors' hands and which was traced to the postoffice in South Chatham.

A Miss Edriffs, young woman clerk in the postoffice, said that a Negro used the phone there and that he wore a pair of white gloves. Her report that there were other men in his car inside the store coincided with Mulcahy's of the missing child.

The Free Press said that after investigators were put to work on the case, nothing further was heard from the kidnappers.

Mrs. McMATH telephoned news of the abduction to her father late yesterday. As the word spread through the family called to telephone assistance, Trent McMATH, an assistant U. S. attorney, is a cousin of the missing child.

Extortion Letters Sent McMATH Before Family Moved East

Detroit, May 3 (AP)—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Cook McMATH and their scattered along from Detroit's social register today saw a possible clue to the kidnapping of 10-year-old Margaret McMATH in Harwichport, Mass., in a series of extortion letters reported to have been received by the child's father before the family moved East.

The letters, which were sent before the family moved East, were said to be from a man named William Robert Kales, prominent Detroit industrialist and the paternal grandfather of Francis C. McMATH, widely known engineer, banker and industrialist, who is said to have no knowledge of the notes.

The Detroit Free Press said, however, it had learned from acquaintances of the family that some or more notes were received, demanding money as insurance against abduction of one of the McMATH children. Margaret or Francis, second, who is now eight years old.

The Free Press said that after investigators were put to work on the case, nothing further was heard from the kidnappers.

Mrs. McMATH telephoned news of the abduction to her father late yesterday. As the word spread through the family called to telephone assistance, Trent McMATH, an assistant U. S. attorney, is a cousin of the missing child.

THURSDAY AT NINE

Bargain News for Thrifty Budgeteers!

Mark your own

"Simply Grand"

Women's, Misses', Juniors'

That only yesterday were much higher priced

Mink dyed Marmot Dymks Blue Fox Dyed Vicuna Lustrous Kidskin Street dress, business dresses, afternoon frocks in styles and colors for every type. Be early when style and size assortment are complete.

An amazing group of up-to-the-minute coats, in all the wanted colors including Grey, Beige, Tan, Dawn Blue, Navy, Black, White, face-lacing, deep hems.

No Mail or Phone Orders

Ask Your DEALER for the SIMPSON SPRING BEVERAGES $500.00 IN CASH PRIZES

1st Prize, $150, and 19 other cash prizes. Also 50 prizes of $10.00 each. The PRIZES are awarded to the winners of the SIMPSON SPRING BEVERAGES.

Women's, Misses', Juniors' Garden flower prints Cape or tiered sleeves Slenderizing, youthful styles Polka dots, pastel shades Dresden cord puff sleeves Smart Schiaparelli sleeve treatments

Every proven fashion success at a remarkably low price. Street dress, business dresses, afternoon frocks in styles and colors for every type. Be early when style and size assortment are complete.

No Mail or Phone Orders

RACKET PROBE SEES CHIEF INTO JAIL

New York, May 3 (AP)—A 20,000 gallon still of the Casey Gordon rum ring was found late yesterday in Mount Vernon, N. Y. Gordon, himself, in mortal fear of the same gunmen who murdered Max Elster and Max Greenberg, is reported in hiding behind steel doors in a penthouse high above Central Park.

Attaches of the U. S. Marshall's office have been told Gordon is ready to surrender to the government, but does not dare to leave his hideout for fear of being shot down before he could reach a taxi.

BEAUTY SHADOWED

Federal agents trailing Gordon had confined themselves chiefly to shadowing a Broadway beauty seen frequently in the gang chief's company before the Elster, N. J., murders of Hassel and Greenberg.

Sharp impetus was given to the entire Gordon-Greenberg-Hassel investigation when Federal Judge George A. Welsh in Philadelphia issued a writ permitting federal revenue agents to open two more safe deposit boxes in a Reading bank. The boxes were rented by the slain Hassel under aliases. A box owned under court order Monday was empty, but another Hassel safe deposit box previously opened in Philadelphia, N. J., yielded $25,000 in cash and a quantity of negotiable paper.

Meanwhile the New York City investigation of racketeering has taken a sensational turn with a flash work-up, allegedly dominated by racketeers, knocked from the shoulder by District Attorney Chain and asked him to drop the case.

"On advice of counsel," officials of a much-investigated downtown branch of the United States Workmen's Union, refused to obey Chain's order to notify Fulton Market dealers it will not interfere with them if they purchase beer from a company which has reported active racketeering activities to police.

Police today were without a clue to the hijackers who cowed a Star brand brewery driver and his helper and made off with a truckload of 22 beer. The two employees were stopped several blocks from the brewery by two armed men, jumped on the running board, seized the seat, and took charge of the truck.

The hijackers drove the truck around the city for more than an hour before they brought it to a halt beside a smelly truck in a lot, ferried the 96 barrels, and drove away.

Other developments indicating that racketeering is on the increase include the seizure of a truckload of New York rumblers were revealed as racketeering in the throwing of search bombs. In business and food places, President Kasper, the Jewish National Assembly of the Jewish Theological Seminary, and the kosher food industry has become afflicted with racketeering.

In Chicago, police attributed recent bombings to racket and labor troubles.

Peru's President Died Peniless

Lima, Peru, May 3 (AP)—The President of Peru, Luis M. Sánchez Cerro, died virtually penniless, friends said today. His estate, they said, amounted only to about $25 in cash, a few expensive jewels and two decorations.

The President was assassinated Sunday.

Java Is Menaced By Famed Volcano

Batavia, Java, May 3 (AP)—Eruptions of the volcano Krakatoa, which has been recurring on an unprecedented scale for the past few days, fifty years ago this little volcanic island was almost destroyed by one of the most catastrophic eruptions ever recorded. Some 30,000 lives were lost in neighboring coasts from the resulting sea waves.

Boy, 6, Victim of Train in Brantree

Because he wanted to help his mother, a 6-year-old boy, James E. Miller, 6, of Vinton ave., Brantree, was dead today after being run over by a train. The boy was killed as he crossed the tracks to "cash" a small grocery store.

School Head Resigns
Tilmon, N. H., May 3 (AP)—William H. Baker, superintendent of Rochester schools since 1922, today presented his resignation, effective August 1, to Mayor Sumner W. Watson.

Hitlerism as Italy's Envoy Sees It

New York, May 3 (AP)—Guido Jung declined to answer most questions put to him when he arrived from Italy to confer with President Roosevelt over world economic matters, but here is what he did answer.

"How do Fascism and Hitlerism compare?" he was asked.

"As a 19-year-old child compared with a 20-year-old man," the Italian representative replied with a grin.

"Are they children of the same father?" someone asked.

"How can there be one father for two different peoples?"

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

"I am not a child," Jung said, "but I am a man."

YOUTHFUL STAR OF CIRCUS Dorothy Herbert Is Coming back to Thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Cir- cus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

Dorothy Herbert is coming back to thrill Boston folk with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus that hauls into Boston early Monday. She is but 19 and has been riding since she was six.

$5,000 SOUTH END GEM THEFT

Diamond rings, valued at $15,000, were stolen in a daring daylight window robbery from the Halper Loan Co., Massachusetts ave., South End, today.

Two men, according to Henry Halper, co-owner of the company with his brother, Joseph, stopped at the window.

After looking about for a few seconds, one of them picked up a brick which he had concealed in his coat through the show window.

The other then grabbed two trays of rings. Both ran across the street in a car, where a third man was waiting at the wheel.

Henry Halper told police he had cut the insurance on the rings in half only two weeks ago in order to reduce expenses.

Neither Henry nor his brother were able to give any description of the thieves.

LapDance Gives Harvard Thrill

Oooh! If you only had been at the banquet of the Harvard Rowing League and had seen those little, lap-dancing ladies dance!

It all came out today—the cordiality of a dancing act put on by three paid entertainers, whose dancing is so warm that their show was halted on the following night by Metropolitan police at a Ligon presentation.

It came out through a story in the Harvard Crimson that because of the declared indecent act at the banquet in a Boston night club, the Harvard bowlers may be forbidden to have their annual dinner next year.

A majority of the male employees at Harvard, the carpenters, electricians, painters, plumbers, gasfitters, yard patrolmen, and the like, attended the banquet, and they say that the dancing act of the girls had not proceeded far before they were seated in the laps of some of the bowlers.

Ex-Worcester Boy Suicide in Cellar

Providence, R. I., May 3 (AP)—Paul Brown, 17, who was said to be a student at the Worcester school examinations, was found dead of a gunshot wound in the cellar of his home there. The medical examiner said the death was a suicide.

The boy was a son of James P. Brown, who came to this city with the Worcester from Worcester, Mass. The nominating committee named Samuel Seabury for first vice-president. The election will take place at the annual meeting May 26.

Dollar and Franc Show Slight Drop

New York, May 3 (AP)—The dollar and the franc depreciated slightly in quiet early trading today. The dollar started at 23 1/2¢ and moved to 23 1/4¢, while the franc was marked at 55 1/2¢ after opening at 54 1/2¢.

Ex-Banker Edwin T. McKnight Has No Hidden Millions, Says Trustee in Bankruptcy

Edwin T. McKnight is now a "common and notorious thief." He already has six to seven years of jail and prison facing him. Today he is on trial in the tangled affairs of the closed Industrial Bank and Trust Company. He may receive even greater punishment if he is convicted. He has petitioned himself into bankruptcy, for about $2,000,000.

But careless persons want to know: "What became of my money?" And rumors fly that "McKnight has a million hidden away."

The Boston Evening American sought the answer to these rumors and reports, because this paper knew that thousands who lost lifetime savings do want to know the answer. Here is the version of the trustee in bankruptcy:

Edwin T. McKnight is absolutely "broke" financially, in the opinion of ATTY. Frederick D. Nichols, of 75 Federal st., trustee in bankruptcy of the former banker.

"I don't believe McKnight has a nickel left," said ATTY. Nichols. "I have made a very complete investigation for the purpose of discovering any property he may own and find that the assets of $2,000,000 which McKnight listed when he filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy on November 3 last were about $1,000,000. All the rest he filed as assets."

"All of McKnight's life insurance policies are gone except one of $50,000, with a $10,000 loan to McKnight. Maurice I. Flag of Fort Myers, Fla., a client of mine, holds that policy. He has been paying $2500 a year, but drew only $100 a month. This policy was given to Flag by McKnight in 1928, and was made to McKnight on Dec. 1, 1929."

"In addition to ATTY. Nichols' list of 43 creditors include 16 banks, 12 in part upon my examination of him and his partner, Mr. Eaton. Much of McKnight's money went into Florida. He got an awful licking there, Eaton and McKnight made $500,000 each year, but drew only $100 a month. The rest went to feed hungry bankers."

"All of McKnight's life insurance policies are gone except one of $50,000, with a $10,000 loan to McKnight. Maurice I. Flag of Fort Myers, Fla., a client of mine, holds that policy. He has been paying $2500 a year, but drew only $100 a month. This policy was given to Flag by McKnight in 1928, and was made to McKnight on Dec. 1, 1929."

"In addition to ATTY. Nichols' list of 43 creditors include 16 banks, 12 in part upon my examination of him and his partner, Mr. Eaton. Much of McKnight's money went into Florida. He got an awful licking there, Eaton and McKnight made $500,000 each year, but drew only $100 a month. The rest went to feed hungry bankers."

"All of McKnight's life insurance policies are gone except one of $50,000, with a $10,000 loan to McKnight. Maurice I. Flag of Fort Myers, Fla., a client of mine, holds that policy. He has been paying $2500 a year, but drew only $100 a month. This policy was given to Flag by McKnight in 1928, and was made to McKnight on Dec. 1, 1929."

"In addition to ATTY. Nichols' list of 43 creditors include 16 banks, 12 in part upon my examination of him and his partner, Mr. Eaton. Much of McKnight's money went into Florida. He got an awful licking there, Eaton and McKnight made $500,000 each year, but drew only $100 a month. The rest went to feed hungry bankers."

"All of McKnight's life insurance policies are gone except one of $50,000, with a $10,000 loan to McKnight. Maurice I. Flag of Fort Myers, Fla., a client of mine, holds that policy. He has been paying $2500 a year, but drew only $100 a month. This policy was given to Flag by McKnight in 1928, and was made to McKnight on Dec. 1, 1929."

"In addition to ATTY. Nichols' list of 43 creditors include 16 banks, 12 in part upon my examination of him and his partner, Mr. Eaton. Much of McKnight's money went into Florida. He got an awful licking there, Eaton and McKnight made $500,000 each year, but drew only $100 a month. The rest went to feed hungry bankers."

"All of McKnight's life insurance policies are gone except one of $50,000, with a $10,000 loan to McKnight. Maurice I. Flag of Fort Myers, Fla., a client of mine, holds that policy. He has been paying $2500 a year, but drew only $100 a month. This policy was given to Flag by McKnight in 1928, and was made to McKnight on Dec. 1, 1929."

MAN, 8 HORSES DIVE 60 FEET

Fred E. Wormell, 41, of Portland, Me., dreamed that he might possess the qualities of a great circus performer until he suddenly but unintentionally pulled off a 60-foot dive with six horses in Everett.

According to Everett police, Wormell, who had been building a fence on the Broadway railroad bridge. The six horses he was transporting, from Brighton to Portland, naturally went along as the truck rolled over the bridge until it landed upright near the tracks.

Police firemen and officials of the M. & N. P. C. A. expected to find Wormell and the horses a jumbled mass of broken bones. But they didn't. Fred and the horses were a bit surprised, of course. Fred was also a little dazed, according to the police.

In Malden court today Wormell pleaded guilty and was held in $200 for trial May 5.

DEATH TOLL 15 IN CUBA RIOTS

Havana, May 3 (AP)—The firing of a body of a rebel who had fired his wounds raised to 15 the death toll of four updatings in Oriente province last Saturday.

Three rebels were killed in a raid on the civil guard post at San Luis were surprised and slain by federal troops.

A dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

The dispatch in the Herald de Cuba said that the rebels were in the assault at San Luis had surrendered and were being sent to the United States for trial.

Asks Jail as Gold Hoarder

Denver, May 3 (AP)—Charles E. Thomas, a former United States Senator, former Governor of Colorado, a long-time hitherto, asks the government to place him in the penitentiary for possessing $120 in gold.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

The 54-year-old statesman has written to Ralph L. Carr, district attorney, expressing objections to the order of President Roosevelt to turn all gold to be turned in to the government.

ROOSEVELT TO PUSH WORKS

Washington, May 3—President Roosevelt may recommend a $3,000,000 public works program, according to White House advisers.

WHAT THE WELL-DRESSED MAN WILL WEAR OF INTEREST ALIKE TO MEN AND WOMEN

Spring Specials to Tempt the Appetite

By MARTHA LEE

From Martha Lee's Wednesday Morning Broadcast Over Station WAAB

WITH THE FIRST WARM DAYS, watch the family's appetite grow "choosy"—and rack your brains for something to tempt them.

Crab Salad

1 cup crabmeat
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1 large ripe tomato salt
cayenne
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Mix over a small can of crabmeat (1 cup). To it add the finely diced celery and the tomato, peeled and seeds removed as much as possible, and cut in small bits. Season to taste with salt and a dash of cayenne. Add 1/2 cup of mayonnaise mix thoroughly and serve on crisp lettuce.

Crab Thermidor

1 tbsp. butter
1 tbsp. flour
1/2 cup thin cream
1 tsp. English mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
cayenne
1/2 cup finely chopped cooked mushrooms
2 cups crabmeat
Make a cream sauce by melting the butter, blending in the flour and adding the cream. Stir constantly and bring to a boil. Boil 2 minutes. Add the mustard, salt, cayenne, crabmeat and mushrooms. Mix well. Fill empty crab shells or au gratin dish with the mixture, building up high in the center. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and brown under moderate broiler flame.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST
Orange Juice
Cereal
Buttered Toast
Preserves
Coffee

LUNCHEON
Scalloped Corn with Bacon
Mixed Green Salad
Whole Wheat Bread and Butter
Fruit Cup
Tea

DINNER
Creamed Chopped Steak
(calf) Potatoes, String Beans Rabbit
Scallops
Hot Biscuits
Butter
Dessert, Claret
Coffee

Purpura is Not Hereditary Disease

By DR. R. S. COPELAND

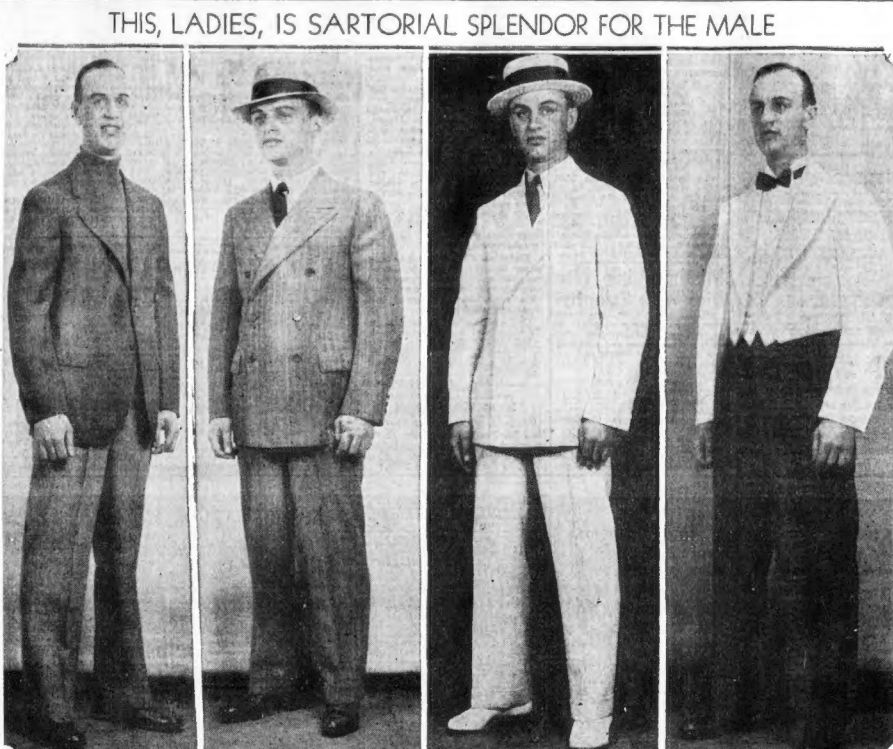

NOT SO long ago I told you about a disease called "hemophilia." This strange and unusual disease is often confused with another blood disturbance called "purpura hemorrhagica." So many inquiries have come to me about hemophilia and purpura that I have deemed it desirable to go somewhat into detail regarding these two diseases.

Sufferers from hemophilia are called "bleeders." They bleed easily upon the slightest bruise or injury, blood oozing from the wound. In certain families, it is a hereditary disease. It is true that the victim of purpura bleeds easily, too, but the bleeding usually is confined to the tissues of the body and the blood does not appear externally. Fundamentally, the diseases are quite different and each requires its distinct treatment.

The causes of purpura and hemophilia are not known. Hemophilia differs from purpura in that it has been found only in males of the white race. It is hereditary, being transmitted through the maternal side of the family. Though daughters will not have the affliction, they may transmit it to their male children.

Once the disease has become established in a family it will remain until that family becomes extinct. The bleeding may be severe and even fatal. Hemorrhages may be traced to slight and almost insignificant injuries. Fortunately, the strange and unusual disease is a rare affliction of mankind.

Prolonged and severe hemorrhages may occur in purpura as well as in hemophilia. In purpura, the bleeding comes suddenly and may occur in any of the tissues of the body. The bleeding may continue for weeks and sometimes proves fatal.

For golf, brown glen plaid slacks, brown saddle shoes, a turtle-neck sweater in burnt orange, and a half-belted, peaked coat of dark brown gabardine. Such are the latest mandates for masculine sports clothes.

For business, a double-breasted Scott's Guard gray suit with a calf stripe, and for accessories a pale yellow shirt with tall collar, black knitted tie, black wing-tip shoes, and a pearl gray, snap brim, felt hat.

For summer, the sensible thing to wear is something very cool—Palm Beach suit with fine herringbone stripe, brown-striped white shirt, brown and white tie, white buck shoes, and a sennit straw hat.

For summer evenings, a Palm Beach mess jacket in white with black Palm Beach trousers, white dress vest, tuxedo collar, stiff-bosom shirt, black bow tie, and black lightweight dress shoes.

Men Set Own Styles But Women Are Largely Responsible for Actual Selections

By Margaret Matson

IF IT IS TRUE, as statistics seem to indicate that it is, that women make the large majority of actual selections of men's clothes, then women should be well-educated in the matter of men's fashions. Women who buy for their husbands, brothers, or sons are just as interested in men's clothes as they are in their own. And so we are offering this little resume of men's fashions today—not from our own ideas, let me assure you, but based upon the word of the men about town who know.

It is to be a sports season, so they tell us, slacks in glen plaids, hounds' tooth checks, flannels, and gabardine will be assembled with coats of gabardine, sheepskin checks, or over-plaid in a variety of combinations. Gray overplaid coat with plain gray flannel trousers, for instance. Or glen plaid slacks with a plaid gabardine coat, and so on. And these combinations, in spite of the fact that they are intended for sports, will appear in the city as well. For those who wish to appear a bit more formal than these casual combinations permit, there are chalk-striped double-breasted suits of lightweight worsted checks and plaids in whole suits, and a comfortable selection of dark waist suits and light linens and palm beach attire for the warm weather.

All of these seem to indicate that the man of the family is to be far more comfortably dressed this season than he has been before. Shirts are showing fine stripes and small checks, and colors are far less formally cut than usual. Apparently it is no longer smart to complain of a tight collar for smart even in the never light. They are cut deeper down in the front, and the soft attached collar is the style. The two colors that seem to be most popular are a soft canary yellow and helio, a purplish blue. Sweaters are in plain colors with contrasting bands or are gaily overplaid, and most of them are the pullover or sleeveless variety. For golf just now, and later on when the weather begins to cool again in the fall, many men prefer the turtle neck in a very lightweight wool.

Bow ties are coming in again. They have been absent for so long, it will be interesting to see them appear in large numbers. And they are coming in in wool and wash fabrics which is a bit different. The shirt material are tremendously popular, and from a woman's point of view, are one of the best fashions that men have hit upon for some time. It is plain to see a colorful tie, of course, but contrast, it is not so exciting, nice to see a unity of tie and shirt.

As for hats, the Sennit straw and body hats are again to be the choice of summer, with a great emphasis upon summer-weight felts in light colors. For the Sennits, crowns and bands are higher, and for the others, almost all the brims turn down in front.

More and more men are adopting the mesh jacket in linens or pale beach cloth for summer evenings, especially at the smart summer resorts. It not only looks cooler and fresher than the tuxedo or dinner jacket, but it is better as well. With the mesh jacket is worn either a vest such as is seen in the photograph here, or else a cummerbund. Both are correct.

And before we finish, we should say a word about the return of the balmacaan. It is again one of the smartest topcoats. It is the one with the three or four buttons ranging up the front and closing rather high at the throat. The skirt is full and flaring, and the coat is best liked in plaided or plain tweeds.

Place at Table for Carver

By MRS. BEECKMAN

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: My husband's father is living with us, and I would like to know what would be the correct place for him at the table when we are entertaining? He likes to do the carving and my husband does not. You, the hostess, should sit at the head of the table, and your husband, the host, should sit opposite you, at the foot of the table. Then I should think that it would be very convenient to have your husband seated at a place between your own and your husband's place, on either side of the table. I like the idea, as apparently he does, his seat where I have suggested it, would I should think, make this convenient for carving and serving.

Tub-Fast Print Frocks for Kiddies

By MARIAN MARTIN

THE LITTLE GIRL with the adorable little frock is caught in a spring shower . . . and that's our cue to tell you about the printed cottons you should select for this model . . . colorful, inexpensive and tubfast ones! As for the dress itself . . . why, captured with its fetching "yoke" treatment, precious puffed sleeves and captivating collar of contrast and such snappy pleats and gathers in lend added fullness. Bloomers are included with this pattern.

Pattern 5958 is cut only in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 4 requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric and 3/4 yard contrasting. Clear, diagrammed cutting and sewing instructions included with this pattern. Send fifteen cents in coin or stamps (coins preferred) for each Martin pattern.

Send your order to Boston Evening American Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

The Daily True Story

Sapphires and Love

MARY TRAVERS had her own ideas about jobs and marriage. Although she was chic and good to look at he had so far managed to be quite content as a kind of general factotum in the small jewelry shop of Henry Martine on the town's one fashionable business thoroughfare.

Mary Martine was in his thirties and a bachelor, too busy trying to make his way to spend much time thinking about marrying. From the start Mary had fulfilled his expectations. He confessed to himself that he would hate to lose her.

Mary lived with an aunt and the young man who called on her joked her about Martine. "Why don't you marry him yet?" he said. All of which seemed a great joke to Mary and she had to admit that no man had ever treated her with so much consideration.

But late the next day Mr. Martine called her aside and told her something that made her forget Frank for the moment. "Mary," he said, "I've just put in the safe a necklace of sapphires that belongs to one of the richest women in the state. Tomorrow I'm going to insure it—it's worth about fifty thousand dollars. Why the deuce not have I insured it? I tell you some other time. She's in a bad way financially and I'm going to take it to New York. I've got two and see if I can dispose of it. I'll be a secure in our safe as anywhere. Of course, I could have left it in the bank but it was after hours when I got it and we've never had any burglars in this store yet."

Boy Dislikes the Friends She Goes With

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: The boy I like is three years older than I am, and acts as an under in a neighborhood theater. He claims the friends with whom I go make too much noise, and are not good enough for me. Lately he has asked me to give them up. Do you think I should give up my friends for him. I am going to a party and invited him as my escort, but he said he couldn't go on account of his homework. Do you think this is just an excuse, or would you believe him?

Dear V. P.: How about it, sister—are the young people with whom you go to the neighborhood theater really noisy and not well behaved? If so, I think the young man has your best interests at heart. And if he goes to school and acts as under in a theater, he must have some time for home-works to keep up with his classes. No, I don't believe I'd drop this young man.

Mary Smith LOST two days' PAY pay because she didn't have a telephone. She used to have one, but she tried to save a little money by taking it out.

What happened was this. Mrs. White planned a dinner. She wanted Mary to help for a couple of days as usual. She tried to telephone, but found the service discontinued. Another "accommodator," with a telephone, got the job.

Mary Smith has her telephone back now. She knows this one job would have paid her telephone bill for a month or so, and she isn't going to miss any more.

Think of it
3 KOTEX
with Patented Equalizer for 59c

A RADICAL innovation . . . Kotex, with the New Patented Equalizer, 20% to 30% greater protection; and edges stay dry. And—look! It is offered at a seasonally low introductory price. Kotex—and Kotex only—offers special phantomized ends for non-revolving protection. Absorbency, softness, disposability remain unchanged. Remember, too, that it can be worn on either side with equal protection. Try Kotex with Patented Equalizer! Now, at the introductory price, 3 boxes for 59c.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

$243,820 Is State Cut on Beer

© 1933, LIGHTY & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

TRIN HOSPITAL LIQUOR THEFT IS FOUND

TALK-FOR AND AGAINST CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

PROF. CHAFFEE

ATTY. MENDAM

REV. DR. BURTON

MEIROSE NET
SETS FIRE;
ENDS LIFEBody of William A.
Hindon Found During Mountain Blaze

Mental depression, induced by a nervous breakdown, was believed today to have caused William A. Hindon, 41, commander of Melrose Post V. F. W., to commit suicide on lonely Mt. Ephraim near the Melrose-Malden line after lighting a signal fire to lead searchers to his body.

Hindon, who lived in South Mountain ave., Melrose, apparently had visited his mother's grave in Forest Dale Cemetery then walked through Pine Banks Park to Mt. Ephraim, where he removed his coat and vest and using them as a pillow, placed the muzzle of a small caliber rifle in his mouth and shot himself through the brain.

Identification was made by Malden police, under whose jurisdiction the case came, by four pencil notes, found in the dead man's pockets. One addressed to George Louis B. Heaton, of the Melrose police, asked that Paulman Daniel H. Galvin, former commander of the veteran's organization be notified.

Another requested that Rev. Aloysius Finn of St. Mary's Church, Melrose, be notified, and the third directed that Dr. Carroll Burgess, of Malden, be informed, why mishap which might befall Hindon. The fourth directed that John Gately, Melrose undertaker, be called in the event of death.

Excelsent war record

Hindon, who was well known in Malden and Melrose, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Winifred Sullivan Hindon and three children. Relatives and friends said he had suffered a nervous breakdown in the past few months and had been gloomy and depressed.

He was born in Melrose and served in the navy during the war. He was an excellent war record, and on his return from service he came associated with the U. S. Shipping Board. For the past few years he had been terminal supervisor at the Shipping Board Merchant Fleet Corporation at the U. S. Army Base, South Boston.

He was one of the organizers of the Melrose Post, V. F. W., founded two years ago and became its second commander.

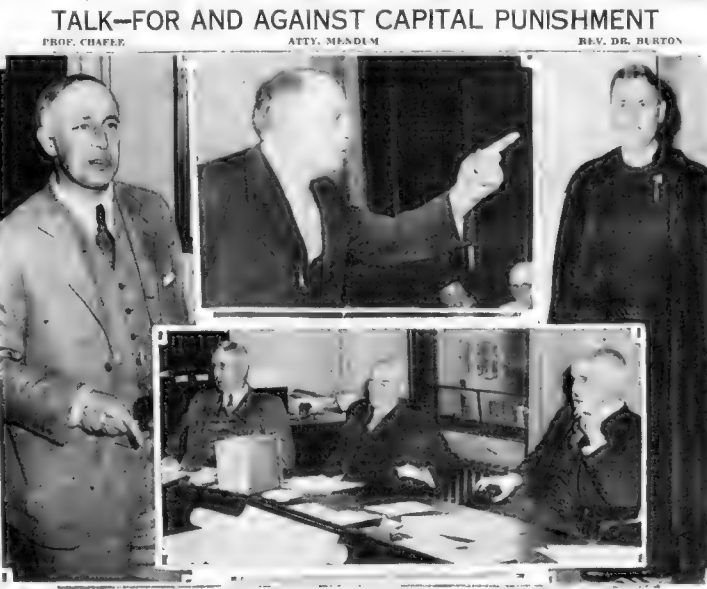

Verdict due in bridge suit

Whether or not a New York engineer should be paid $15,000 for preliminary plans on the once proposed $100,000 bridge across the harbor to East Boston is due for settlement today in federal court.

Two named to Berths

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The Postoffice Department announced the appointment of Patrick J. Cannon as acting postmaster at Pittsfield, Vt., and Irving H. Brown as acting postmaster at Swanton, Vt.

SKIPPY—A Painful Difference

Many of those who favor an investigation on the question of abolishing capital punishment in Massachusetts spoke and listened at a committee hearing at the State House, yesterday. "You cannot terrify people into virtue," declared the Rev. Dr. Spence Burton, noted Episcopal minister and former chaplain of St. Quentin prison, in California. He favored the investigation, as did Professor Zecchar Chaffee, of Harvard University. For years he has favored the abolition of death as a

Cambridge in scout drive

Cambridge went doughnut crazy today. More than 200 Cambridge girl scouts started shortly after eight o'clock this morning and stormed homes, offices and stores in the city soliciting orders for the delicacy in a drive to finance their summer camp at Lake Okauchie, N. H.

Even City Hall was not immune from the "doughnut attack" for several of the scouts, headed by Mayor Richard M. Russell on his way to his office in the building and did not leave before enlisting his aid.

School and colleges failed to withhold the drive started by the scouts. Harvard, Radcliffe, MIT and M. I. T. fell before the scouts' "doughnut brigade" and the delicacy was placed on sale in the college dining rooms, the proceeds to be turned over to the scouts.

Hultman to Test New Radio Plan

Experiments on the new two-way radio system for Boston police brought the prospects of police radio one step nearer today. Police Commissioner Hultman has assigned the tests to engineers of the Radio Corporation of America and announced that bids for the contract of approximately $75,000 may be filed anytime.

Gertrude Lindroth and Dorothy Sullivan

Today is Doughnut Day. That is, as far as Cambridge Girl Scouts are concerned. To gather funds for their activities, practically every Girl Scout in Cambridge will be selling doughnuts. Yesterday afternoon a delegation of the girls went to the State House, where they presented doughnuts to senators and representatives and held a doughnut eating contest. They were guests of Rep. Paul Dever of Cambridge. The picture shows Gertrude Lindroth, of Troop 7, and Dorothy Sullivan, of Troop 1, doing a little fancy doughnut nibbling.

ABANDONED BY THIEVES
HOSPITALContents Gone; Search for Fingerprints on Vehicle Made

The Beth Israel Hospital truck used to carry off $10,000 worth of medicinal liquor stolen from the institution late last night, was found abandoned today in Mt. Hope st., Roslindale, by police in a cruiser car.

All the liquor had been removed, but the truck was taken in charge and search begun for fingerprints, to be checked with fingerprints found on the liquor door of the hospital.

The trio of bandits asked the watchman of the Conley, of West Newton st., South End, at gun point, and bound and gagged him. They then forced open the liquor room and calmly removed the liquor. The men did not leave the premises until they had made the two trips necessary to carry away the liquor.

Conley told police he was making his rounds through the hospital yard when he saw an auto drive into the grounds. He paid no attention, believing it to be that of a doctor or intern. A few minutes later these men approached and asked for the watchman.

He said he identified himself and the trio immediately drew guns and bound and gagged him. He was placed in their machine and the three then broke into the liquor room in the basement of the main building. They filled the hospital truck with a load of liquor and two drove away, while the third remained to guard the truck.

A short time later they returned and again loaded the truck. Two of the men then drove away, while the third remained to guard the truck. They filled the hospital truck with a load of liquor and two drove away, while the third remained to guard the truck.

Conley described the men as being about 20 years of age, five feet two were about five feet, eight inches tall and weighing from 150 to 170 pounds. They wore dark suits and overcoats. The other men, about five feet, six inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds, were seen to get out and enter the Conley said.

New Lawrence Bank to Elect Officers

Lawrence, May 3—Incorporators of the new Community Savings Bank of Lawrence, Mass., first election of officers and trustees to the State Board of Bank Incorporators yesterday.

Frederick E. Wormwell, 41, of Swain rd., Wilmington, was held by Everett police today on charges of driving a motor car and leaving the scene of an accident as the result of a plunge of his motor car down a 30-foot embankment off Broadway, Everett.

Five horses, Wormwell and a passenger who fled escaped injury but firemen were called to rescue the horses from the overturned van. Wormwell was found by police near several oil storage tanks, to which they had fled after the accident. William Mahoney, first department electrician, injured his hand during the work of freeing the horses.

Arctic Circle to Get Together Monday

The Arctic Circle, an organization composed of friends of Mother Mary of the Blessed Sacrament, who have become interested in her school and orphanage in Alaska, will hold its annual get-together Monday evening at The Bungalow, Oak St., Brighton. Funds have been held for several years with Oakes. The speaker will be Rev. Richard J. Cushing, diocesan director of the Propagation of the Faith Society. There will be vocal and instrumental music.

Fraternities Go on Despite Ruling

Haverhill, May 3—Principal Arlington Clow of the high school and the Haverhill school committee are experiencing difficulty in enforcing the ruling against secret societies of any kind at the school and students. Clow is reported as talking merrily at Hampton House as members of fraternities and sororities. It is understood the students have rented cottages at the resort and have engaged couples to represent them in case of court cases.

Elizabeth Morison, well known in society theatrical circles, is to play feminine lead in the Harvard Dramatic Club's annual spring production, "The Watched Pot." Two presentations will be made at Brattle Hall, Cambridge. The first tomorrow night and then on Friday night. Above you see Miss Morison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Morison, of Brimmer st. She is shown with Robert Breckenridge, Harvard '34, of New York, who appears in role of Trevor Baverly.

BURTON SUE IN BANK CASE

Action has been started in federal district court by Herbert Pearson, receiver of the closed Federal National Bank, to recover $13,500 and interest at 6 per cent since June 16, 1932, from Hiram Burton, of Concord, N. H., an alleged stockholder of the institution.

The proceedings were started yesterday by Pearson by direction of the comptroller of the currency and the return day for filing answers is June 27. Pearson declares that he is to enforce the individual liability of the bank's stockholders as a total assessment of $2,000, $433, under an order of the comptroller.

The assessment was to be paid on or before June 16, 1932 and demand was made on each and every stockholder for the par value of every share held by them respectively at the time the bank closed, Dec. 16, 1931. The defendant was notified but failed to make any payment, according to the declaration.

SIX ON TRIAL IN
$5600 HOLDUP

Trials of Earl "Tug" Wilson, former boxer, and five other men charged with armed robbery in connection with a $5600 payroll holdup at the Harold Shice Co. Chelsea, last February 18, resume before Judge Raoul H. Boudreau and a jury in Suffolk Superior Court today.

Two girl employees of the company, Miss Grace Rosenberg and Miss Beatrice Brooks, who were present during the holdup, were the only government witnesses at yesterday's session, which opened the trial. Neither could positively identify any of the defendants as participants in the holdup but declared three of the defendants resembled the bandit.

Those three, in addition to Wilson are William Gilar, Charles Rizzo, James Downey, Armando Paganella, and Anthony Della Rusa. Downey, Della Rusa and Paganella are the three picked out by the two witnesses.

Square Deal Is Promised Veterans

Lowell, May 3—Veterans here today were gratified over the address of James Roosevelt, son of the President, at the annual dinner of Lowell Council K. of C. in which he declared a individual review of his case was open to every veteran.

Young Roosevelt declared there was no intention of working hard on deserving veterans in passing appropriation.

This Is Life

Prof. Rogers' daily column will be found on the Editorial Page.

Phone in News Tips to Liberty 4000 and Win $50 in Weekly Prizes

WOLLASTON
TAL. 3260
5 ACTS VAUDEVILLE
Richard Cox "Great Insuper"
Ed Wynn
"Follow the Leader"

FISHING TACKLE
TER JOHNSON'S
WASHINGTON ST.
CORNER CORNHILL BOSTON
THURSDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9:
EVERYTHING FOR SPORT AND RECREATION

THE ATTACKLES MARTIN

FAVORED IN ARENA DUEL

Arena Program

First bout at 8 p. m.
MAIN BOUT
Don.

(Two falls out of three.)

Joe Knorr vs. The Black Secret.
(One fall—no time limit.)

SPECIAL BOUT
Charlie Martin vs. Bob Russell.
(Two falls—30 min. limit.)

PHILIP LINDBERGH
Pat O'Hara vs. Joe Sullivan.
George Linnahan vs. Jack Walsh.
Bill Curry vs. Kenzie Kelly.
George Murray vs. Dick Perlin.
Harry Lindlin vs. John Wilcox.

Joe Knorr vs. Johnny Lopez.
Jim Wallis vs. Earl Thompson.
Freddie Moran vs. Charlie Martin.
John Longene vs. Roughton Murphy.

Man Mountain Dray, 210 pounds.
Bill Martin, 240 pounds, a pair of the behemoths of wrestling, clash tonight in the main bout of the 12-bout wrestling carnival under the auspices of Steve McMahon at the Boston Arena.

Their clash will be two falls out of three with no time limit. Dray is favored.

Dray hopes to crash to victory with a lately developed flying tackle and a variety of vicious kicks and punches.

Tonight's carnival will be Joe Knorr vs. the Black Secret. Knorr hopes to whip the Black Secret.

In a special bout, Charlie Martin, middleweight champion, will step out of his class to battle a heavy-weight, Rebel Bob Russell.

MUFF FAILS TO AID RACING RABBIT

Rabbit Maranville

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Maranville's sixth to second was wasted effort in the sixth frame of the Braves-Reds Tuesday fray, won by the Reds, 2 to 1.

Ed Brandt, catcher Ernie Lombardi fielded the ball and shot it to Maranville.

Airing Lindbergh Flight Ovation Recalled as Most Vivid Among Memories

By N. F. T.

Unlike baseball, theatricals, boxing, or the professional arts of music, medicine, law and journalism, a fellow editor has to be very old to remember his knowledge radio broadcasting news.

A former program planner has been relating some of his experiences and thrills typical of early activity on the air during 1927 and 1928. Two of these anecdotes were set forth here yesterday, our interesting talk taking place as it did only Monday evening last. His fund of whimsical stories are as unusual as they are absolutely authentic.

Broke in at Beginning

Building an enthusiastic audience despite nearby and larger station competition, was a problem this fellow determined to avoid.

Possessed of a marked sense of humor, his job as studio director of a well-known unit in a condensed New England city, a so-called "morning" station, to consider. Along with him went a keen understanding how most of the humor incidents attending his career, consistently occurred under more or less accidental circumstances.

He said he had, some years ago, been called upon to direct a radio program, and he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech. He said he had to make a speech.

The "Old Days" Claims Veteran

Evening American on the Air

THE GLOBETROTTER

A complete radio daily newspaper—75 minutes of news, markets, fashions, features, sports and general entertainment.

212 M—Station WAAB—1410 Kil.

250 M—WOCR, Worcester—1200 Kil.

11 M—WMAA, Springfield—1420 Kil.

8:30, 9:45 A. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

11:00, 11:15 A. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

Mon. and Wed. in Martha Lee's Homecoming. Cass.

Tuesday—Marcel Martin School of Culture.

Thursday—Mrs. Telford and Garden Life.

Friday—Future Forecaster, News Flash.

12:30, 12:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

3:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

Stock Market Quota, News Flash.

7:00, 7:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

News Flash, Features.

10:30, 10:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

11:00, 11:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

11:30, 11:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

12:00, 12:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

12:30, 12:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

1:00, 1:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

1:30, 1:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

2:00, 2:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

2:30, 2:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

3:00, 3:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

3:30, 3:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

4:00, 4:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

4:30, 4:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

5:00, 5:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

5:30, 5:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

6:00, 6:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

6:30, 6:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

7:00, 7:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

7:30, 7:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

8:00, 8:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

8:30, 8:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

9:00, 9:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

9:30, 9:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

10:00, 10:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

10:30, 10:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

11:00, 11:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

11:30, 11:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

12:00, 12:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

12:30, 12:45 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

1:00, 1:15 P. M.—MTP BOLTON, EDITOR OF THE AIR.

COOK-COOS

By TED COOK

Copyright, 1933, for the Boston Evening American.

And the bigger the salary the longer the lunch hour.

HAIL AND FAREWELL

(From Mr. Journalist)

Many are asking me to still go on with the office of syndicate, but I think 27 years continuously under bond is about enough. I will let the other fellow try his hand. While I sit of people appreciate my work, there are always those who are different. I will vote for Buck Dandies, who is supposed to take my place and wish him all the best that has been dished out to me in the 27 years. I shot four men before I was elected and five since, and I am quite a good gun, I guess.

Brush Cook, Bites.

NATURE NOTE

The time of the year when the grapes are ripe and the vines are full of fruit.

Long Beach, Cal.—This city, the horsehoe-pitching capital of the universe, has been traditionally dry by city charter. Following the quake a special referendum was held, and to the surprise of dry law the people voted 51% to 1 to change the charter and permit sale of beer and wine.

Bluenoses must be furious when nature acts so curious; For it's plain to observe that the terrible quake did more than externally topple and shake mere buildings. Results of the plebiscite recently taken show that the viewpoint of Long Beach was shaken.

Perhaps they've conspired to shake up the pride! Tachi! Tachi! Tachi! Bluenoses must be furious when nature acts so curious.

And then there's the novelists who start at the bottom and work his characters down.

Phil Quip, 1933—

And for every destructive critic there are usually ten destructive actors.

Add similes—

Regularly as prompt and definite action is followed by prompt and definite indignation.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

But nevertheless, madmen, that's just the way I feel about it.

Why uncha kum' some tum-me?

"The more you learn of the regulations," sighs Genevieve, the kitchen tyro, "the less you object to speaking prices."

Milestones on the path to higher things:

LOS ANGELES (Variety)—Added to the curriculum of the Southern branch of the University of California is a course in the art of unspoke.

Girls who heed the ancient sage Do not make the tailed pages.

Stimile from Neil McCarthy of Chicago—

Bitter as a stomach pump manufacturer at the thought of prohibition repeal.

And Moronia, the office problem, still thinks Nazi is a new bandy bar.

THE LOWER DEPTHS

(Cross Agent Item)

John Barrymore never wears a necktie stiff collar in private life. When screen jolts demands culture and ties has to borrow them.

Some people seem to think this talking skills and are immodest as last year's idea of propriety.

D. Q. and A. DEPARTMENT

Dear, Sympathetic Aunt Bella—

Don't you think this great nation has learned many lessons from adversity, and learned them thoughtfully.

Daily Crossword Puzzle

By EUGENE SHEFFER

HORIZONTAL

1—Organ of the mouth.

2—Fruitful.

3—Throat.

4—Very old.

5—Legislative.

6—Condemned in a war.

7—Exaggeration.

8—Maiden.

9—Lament of a woman.

10—Lament of a woman.

11—Like a woman.

12—Lament of a woman.

13—Lament of a woman.

14—Lament of a woman.

15—Lament of a woman.

16—Lament of a woman.

17—Lament of a woman.

18—Lament of a woman.

19—Lament of a woman.

20—Lament of a woman.

21—Lament of a woman.

22—Lament of a woman.

23—Lament of a woman.

24—Lament of a woman.

25—Lament of a woman.

26—Lament of a woman.

27—Lament of a woman.

28—Lament of a woman.

29—Lament of a woman.

30—Lament of a woman.

31—Lament of a woman.

32—Lament of a woman.

33—Lament of a woman.

34—Lament of a woman.

35—Lament of a woman.

36—Lament of a woman.

37—Lament of a woman.

38—Lament of a woman.

39—Lament of a woman.

40—Lament of a woman.

41—Lament of a woman.

42—Lament of a woman.

43—Lament of a woman.

44—Lament of a woman.

45—Lament of a woman.

46—Lament of a woman.

47—Lament of a woman.

48—Lament of a woman.

49—Lament of a woman.

50—Lament of a woman.

51—Lament of a woman.

52—Lament of a woman.

53—Lament of a woman.

54—Lament of a woman.

55—Lament of a woman.

56—Lament of a woman.

57—Lament of a woman.

58—Lament of a woman.

59—Lament of a woman.

60—Lament of a woman.

61—Lament of a woman.

62—Lament of a woman.

63—Lament of a woman.

64—Lament of a woman.

65—Lament of a woman.

66—Lament of a woman.

67—Lament of a woman.

68—Lament of a woman.

69—Lament of a woman.

70—Lament of a woman.

71—Lament of a woman.

72—Lament of a woman.

73—Lament of a woman.

74—Lament of a woman.

75—Lament of a woman.

76—Lament of a woman.

77—Lament of a woman.

78—Lament of a woman.

79—Lament of a woman.

80—Lament of a woman.

81—Lament of a woman.

82—Lament of a woman.

83—Lament of a woman.

84—Lament of a woman.

85—Lament of a woman.

86—Lament of a woman.

87—Lament of a woman.

88—Lament of a woman.

89—Lament of a woman.

90—Lament of a woman.

91—Lament of a woman.

92—Lament of a woman.

93—Lament of a woman.

94—Lament of a woman.

95—Lament of a woman.

96—Lament of a woman.

97—Lament of a woman.

98—Lament of a woman.

99—Lament of a woman.

100—Lament of a woman.

VERTICAL

1—To keep.

2—Wild goat.

3—To keep.

4—To keep.

5—To keep.

6—To keep.

7—To keep.

8—To keep.

9—To keep.

10—To keep.

11—To keep.

12—To keep.

13—To keep.

14—To keep.

15—To keep.

16—To keep.

17—To keep.

18—To keep.

19—To keep.

20—To keep.

21—To keep.

22—To keep.

23—To keep.

24—To keep.

25—To keep.

26—To keep.

27—To keep.

28—To keep.

29—To keep.

30—To keep.

31—To keep.

32—To keep.

33—To keep.

34—To keep.

35—To keep.

36—To keep.

37—To keep.

38—To keep.

39—To keep.

40—To keep.

41—To keep.

42—To keep.

43—To keep.

44—To keep.

45—To keep.

46—To keep.

47—To keep.

48—To keep.

49—To keep.

50—To keep.

51—To keep.

52—To keep.

53—To keep.

54—To keep.

55—To keep.

56—To keep.

57—To keep.

58—To keep.

59—To keep.

60—To keep.

61—To keep.

62—To keep.

63—To keep.

64—To keep.

65—To keep.

66—To keep.

67—To keep.

68—To keep.

69—To keep.

70—To keep.

71—To keep.

72—To keep.

73—To keep.

74—To keep.

75—To keep.

76—To keep.

77—To keep.

78—To keep.

79—To keep.

80—To keep.

81—To keep.

82—To keep.

83—To keep.

84—To keep.

85—To keep.

86—To keep.

87—To keep.

88—To keep.

89—To keep.

90—To keep.

91—To keep.

92—To keep.

93—To keep.

94—To keep.

95—To keep.

96—To keep.

97—To keep.

98—To keep.

99—To keep.

100—To keep.

WRIGLEY'S JUICY FRUIT CHEWING GUM

You'll like it!

R. H. White Co. Boston American

FREE RENTAL BUREAU

For complete information about any kind of rental, furniture or business, call at the Rental Bureau at 100 Washington and Bedford sts. R. H. White Co., corner

"BARBARA HOLMES"

Will be pleased to help you

Telephone Hancock 4100 9:00 to 5:30

A COMPLETE RENTAL SERVICE CO-OPERATING WITH MANAGER, REALTOR, OFFICES AND OPERATORS

THIMBLE THEATRE, starring POPEYE

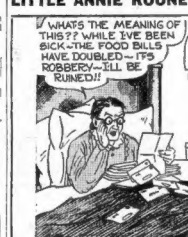

BRINGING UP FATHER

POLLY AND HER PALS

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

BARNEY GOOGLE

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

KRAZY KAT

Now Showing—"As You Were"

Getting a Doctor for Father

A Glutton for Punishment

Gracious Lady Bountiful

"Accidents" Will Happen

Greater Love Has No Man

Benefit Performance

